VISITS FATHER

Kennedy Is Given Checkup On Back, Looks At Budget

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President John F. Kennedy, attired informally and appearing relaxed, visited his seriously ill father today.

The president's schedule called also for a checkup on his back, which he injured in a tree-planting ceremony last summer. Dr. Preston Wade, a New York specialist, was called to Palm Beach for what was described as a routine examination later today.

Kennedy had nothing to say to newsmen when he left the hospital. He spent 24 minutes with his father, former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, who suffered a stroke a week ago today.

Wearing a blue blazer, gray sports shirt and white flannel trousers, Kennedy drove in an open convertible to St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach, where his father is hospitalized.

In announcing that Wade would examine the president with the regular White House physician, Janet Travell, press secretary Pierre Salinger emphasized that Kennedy has experienced no recent trouble with his back.

Due from Washington today were three presidential advisers to work with Kennedy on the forthcoming State of the Union message.

Kennedy is getting ready for what Salinger called "a last look at the budget" for the 1963 fiscal year, which starts July 1.

Despite their anxiety over the condition of the elder Kennedy, president and Mrs. Kennedy made Christmas as merry as possible for their two children.

All were up early in the ocean-front mansion of Col. and Mrs. C. Michael Paul, where they are spending the holidays, to watch Caroline, 4, open her presents beneath a tall Christmas tree. John Jr., 1, watched his delighted sister.

After Caroline finished, Salinger reported, the living room "looked like anybody's living room on Christmas morning."

The president and first lady then drove to the small white chapel at St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach to attend 10 o'clock Mass.

They spent 50 minutes with the president's father, who is battling against pneumonia as well as the after-effects of a stroke he suffered a week ago today.

They returned for another 35-minutes visit last night.

The president and first lady seemed to be much more relaxed than on other recent visits to the hospital.

"Thank you," the president smilingly replied when a photographer wished him a merry Christmas.

Among the presents Caroline got from her parents was a pedal-powered brown horse and red surrey. Another present was a set of plastic horses and a plastic stable to house them.

Salinger said John Jr. fared well with gifts but that he did not check up on what they were.

The adult Kennedys gathered last night in the president's borrowed home for the traditional Christmas dinner of turkey and all the trimmings.

Those present included the president's mother; his brother Edward and his wife; sister Pat and her husband, actor Peter Lawford; Mrs. Kennedy's sister, Princess Lee Radziwill and her husband; Ann Gargan, niece of Joseph Kennedy, and Luella Hennessey, long-time Kennedy family nurse.

Lull Settles Over Prison After Holiday

Post-Christmas lull settled over San Quentin Prison today in the wake of four killings within a fortnight and with new control measures in effect.

Ninety-five prisoners, considered the most explosive elements among nearly 5,000 inmates, were isolated in a special cell block.

Six extra guards, regular officers working overtime but to be replaced as soon as possible by extra permanent personnel, were patrolling recreation and work areas.

NO WEAPONS

Intensive searches throughout the prison were reported to have turned up neither weapons nor drugs.

"We've taken the apparently potential trouble-makers out of our population," said Warden Fred R. Dickson, "and we'll be guided by developments.

"Some of these men may be restored to their normal operations quite soon if it appears this is the right thing to do. But others may be added if we find reason to take this course.

"Things appear to be quiet. Christmas isn't ever the happiest time for many men in prison. Some take it all right but to many, of course, it brings longings and memories.

"We had the regular picture shows yesterday afternoon and last night."

CIRCUMSTANCES

Dickson said all the recent slayings represented special circumstances. Of the latest to die, 21-year-old Robert A. Lopez, he noted that "we had him locked up for a year in the adjustment center and that he had long been a problem inmate.

Associate Warden Dale B. Frady said no link with dope or gambling had been found in Lopez's slaying.

Associate Warden Louis S. Nelson said prison officials had knowledge that Thomas Devers, killed Dec. 13, was in danger and he had been asked twice if he wished protective custody. He refused both times, said Nelson.

Among discoveries made in the course of the current "shake-down" searches was a home-made still, found behind a wall in the hospital plumbing shop, it was revealed. But prison officials said such contraband was only a "routine" find.

Frady said that to strengthen the guard staff six new men

Novato Pastor Stricken Visiting Hospital On Christmas Eve Dies

Rev. Will Edd Langford, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Novato, suffered a heart attack as he was making Christmas Eve calls on patients at Novato Hospital. He died about an hour later.

Rev. Langford had preached the morning service at his church at 1017 Third Street and had a Christmas Eve service scheduled to begin at 5 p.m. He died at 4:40 p.m.

Capt. Laurence H. Withington, chaplain at Hamilton Air Force Base, substituted for Langford at that service. Langford's wife, Mrs. Lila Fae Langford, and their son Bruce, 9, attended the service.

Born in Jonesboro, Ark., June 25, 1909, Langford received his B. S. degree from Arkansas State College and his master's in theology from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, Tex. He received his Ph.D. in theology from the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary.

In addition to being pastor of the Novato church for the past year, Rev. Langford had held pastorages at Erin, Tenn.; Hughes, Ark., and San Francisco.

Rev. Langford was author of Sunday school lessons in the adult quarterly for the Southern Baptist Convention. He served as an Army chaplain during World War II.

He was a member of the Redwood Empire Assn. of Churches, Novato Ministerial Assn., president of the Redwood Empire Chapter of Golden Gate Seminary Alumni, past president of the National Golden Gate Seminary Alumni Assn., and a member of the Rotary Club.

In addition to his wife and son, he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Langford of Jonesboro; a brother, Lloyd of Jonesboro, and a sister, Mrs. John Breckenridge of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Langford's father, who is past 90 years of age, has not missed one Sunday at Sunday school in 56½ years.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Thursday in the First Baptist Church in Novato. Members of the Redwood Assn. of Churches will be honorary pall bearers. Active pall bearers will be the deacons of the church.

Interment will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno. Friends may call at the Redwood Funeral Chapel until Thursday morning.

Robert Kennedy Indonesia Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials said today Atty. Gen. and Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy probably will visit Indonesia during a world tour that will take the president's brother from Tokyo to Berlin in February.

President Sukarno invited the attorney general to visit him when the Indonesia leader made a state visit here last April.

Red Guinea Plot Charged

CONAKRY, Guinea (UPI)—President Sekou Toure said today that last month's attempts to overthrow his government were staged by "Marxist-Leninists" who planned a revolution in Africa.

Toure made the charge in a speech opening this year's second national conference of the Guinean Democratic Party at Labe, third largest city in the country.

Toure said the Marxist-Leninist group had backing from Moscow, Paris and Dakar. He accused the French embassy here of acting as a link in the plot.

Novatans Get Behind Smith —Ouster Being Protested

Novatans campaigning against the ouster of School Supt. William J. J. Smith plan to appear before the Novato Unified School District board at its meeting at 8'clock tonight to present their case.

The matter of a possible new contract for Smith, whose resignation as superintendent was submitted after a four and one-half hour closed board session last Tuesday, is not on the agenda for tonight's meeting in the board's office in the school administration building. But pro-Smith campaigners let it be known they would be present at the session to demand the matter be aired and present petitions.

A committee calling itself the Committee for Clear Thinking, organized at a meeting at the home of Hugh Turner, radio KTIM manager, at 1470 Pastel Lane, began circulation of petitions Sunday for Smith's reinstatement.

Samuel A. Hagler Jr. of 1552 Buchanan Street was named committee chairman; Frank Henry of 2221 Oak Knoll Road, treasurer, and Mrs. Wendell Groves of 837 Atherton Avenue, secretary.

Copies of the petition were circulated outside the Novato First Presbyterian Church, of which Smith is a prominent member, after Sunday services. Rev. C. M. Croughan, minister, said this was done by members of the congregation and not in connection with the church itself.

The petitions call for (1) immediate renewal of Smith's contract, and (2) immediate preparation of a written board policy as a safeguard against future misunderstandings between board and administration.

They declare failure to retain Smith in the superintendency he has held for 14 years "would be a serious setback in the progress that has characterized the history of the Novato school system."

It continues: "We further believe that a policy of considering only those complaints and criticisms of school affairs that are voiced at school board meetings or written to the school board as a whole will eliminate or least greatly minimize misunderstandings that have led to this present state."

Smith's resignation was accepted by 3-2 vote of the school board last Tuesday, with a provision that door would not be closed on re-employing him.

Yule Traffic Deaths Near Record Of '55

California Again Leads The Nation

COMBINED AP & UPI

Nearly final figures today showed that traffic accidents during the long Christmas holiday weekend killed 525 persons in the nation, the worst traffic sluaghter since the "black Christmas" of 1955, when 609 were killed.

And California, with its nearly nine million vehicles, once again led the nation. An official tally by the California Highway Patrol showed 57 persons, one more than last Christmas, died violently in traffic accidents between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight last night.

In Sacramento, Bradford Crittenden, the head of the highway patrol said today heavy fog was partially to blame for the traffic deaths.

FOGGY WEATHER

"Whether any of the fatal accidents which occurred in fog would not have happened had there been no fog can never be determined," Crittenden said.

"The fact that injury accidents in the unincorporated areas were much higher than last Christmas is a strong indication that foggy weather was an important factor."

A heavy fog blanketed much of California during the weekend.

In Los Angeles, patchy fog plagued some air and auto travel today for the sixth day since Dec. 20.

Lockheed Air Terminal in suburban Burbank was socked in. Plane passengers were taken to Los Angeles International Airport, where operations continued—a switch in the two airports' recent roles.

COUNCIL'S SCHEME

The National Safety Council, which had estimated 500 fatalities for the nation during the 78-hour holiday period said bad weather was partly to blame for the toll.

"It was dangerous driving in many areas," a council spokesman said. "But in some locales there was good weather and still the toll ran high. There's no way of accounting for that."

A total of 664 persons were killed in all holiday accidents. The breakdown:

Traffic	525
Fire	77
Planes	6
Others	68
Total	676

Texas had 50 deaths and New York 40. Other states with high tolls included Michigan and Illinois with 26 each, Kentucky 18, Florida 19, North Carolina 19, Ohio and Pennsylvania 23 each and South Carolina 18.

Five states had no traffic fatalities: Alaska, Arizona, Delaware, Hawaii and Rhode Island.

Indonesia Says No Negotiations

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — President Sukarno said tonight Indonesia will never negotiate with Holland on the issue of West Irian (Dutch New Guinea) unless the negotiations are based on the transfer of Dutch sovereignty from that territory.

'RIVER OF COTTON'

County Is Covered By Blanket Of Fog

Fog that "looked like a river of cotton" wrapped Marin during morning hours today, yesterday and Sunday, slowing automobiles and hampering air traffic.

All Bay Area airports were closed by fog on Christmas morning.

Marin County Airport at Novato remained closed for the third successive day today. Hamilton Air Force Base was closed to incoming traffic Saturday from 1 to 9 a.m., again from 9 p.m. Saturday to 10:45 a.m. Sunday, and again until 10:45 a.m. yesterday. It was open today.

Fog closed the Commodore Aviation Corp. seaplane base on Richardson Bay Sunday and yesterday until 10 a.m. It was operating today, with limited visibility.

The fog kept highway patrolmen and police on the run to a series of motoring accidents. Most of them proved minor, however, as the poor visibility caused drivers to proceed more slowly and cautiously.

Lt. Col. William E. Wright, looking down over the scene this morning from the 666th Radar Squadron atop Mount Tamalpais, which he commands, said:

"It looks like a river of cotton down below.

"The fog is solid below us to about 1,500 feet. The mountains all around are just sticking up through the clouds.

"But it's sunny up here and was a beautiful Christmas day yesterday."

Marin Board Meets On Transit Problem

Three Marin County supervisors met this morning to reject any Bay Area rapid transit plan excluding this county. They were thrown into confusion to hear there wasn't even any plan to reject.

A letter from the Bay Area Rapid Transit District advised that the plan had been withdrawn as result of its rejection by San Mateo County, therefore Marin County supervisors had nothing before them.

But County Counsel E. Warren McGuire prudently advised them to take action anyway, just in case.

Chairman William D. Fusselman ruled that the meeting would recess until the regular 1 p.m. meeting time and later in the day consider this subject again, hoping for attendance of two more members and for more legal advice.

An opinion from McGuire was read after the meeting opened at 10 a.m. with only Supervisors George Ludy and Walter R. Castro supporting Fusselman. McGuire said the county could withdraw only after disapproving the transit report "and amended reports, if any."

Clerk George S. Jones then read a letter from the Rapid Transit District reciting the Dec. 19 disapproval of the report by San Mateo County supervisors. As a result, the transit board at a special meeting last Friday withdrew its report from further consideration. "Nothing remains before your board," said the letter.

THE CANINE WHO CAME TO DINNER

Mrs. J. V. Schultz of Mill Valley was shocked yesterday when a big black dog walked into her yard, took her almost-done turkey off her barbecue spit and began to munch. She called police.

Officer John Castellani coaxed the dog into the garage with some more of Mrs. Schultz's Christmas bird. By dog tag, Castellani found the owner, "A man named Burke on Eldridge Avenue," who came to get Bruno and to make restitution.

There was little left of the turkey after the German shepherd finished, said Castellani. "But Bruno was very neat. He started first on the white meat."

Yanks Taking To Autobahn

BERLIN (UPI)—The U. S. Army today announced further troop movements on the 110-mile autobahn from the isolated city to West Germany despite continued Communist charges of "provocation."

The Army said Co. D of the Sixth Infantry's Second Battle Group will leave here tomorrow in a routine move. It will undertake convoy training and carry out small unit tactics on unfamiliar terrain in West Germany, the Army said.

The East German government, in a note delivered to the U. S. embassy in Prague two weeks ago, protested that the recent American troop movements along the autobahn were deliberate provocations.

Crew Rescued From Dredge

BOSTON (AP)—The Coast Guard said today that the 10-man crew of the disabled dredge Cartagena was transferred to the Coast Guard cutter Acushnet in the gale-swept North Atlantic after a towline snapped. (See also story page 6.)

A cryptic message from the Acushnet said one crew member, an elderly man, was injured in the transfer and was being given artificial respiration by a medical corpsman aboard the Acushnet.

Pope Issues Papal Bull Calling For Worldwide Council

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII issued a papal bull yesterday formally convoking an ecumenical council of the Roman Catholic Church next year. It will deal with internal affairs of the church, advance the cause of Christian unity and consider the problems besetting modern man.

The Pope did not set the exact date for some 3,000 Catholic leaders to gather in St. Peter's Basilica. The worldwide council is expected to open late in 1962.

The internal administration of the church and paths toward Christian unity—two problems that have been major concerns of Pope John since his election in 1958—will be major topics at the council.

The Pope, expressing grave concern over "militant atheism, operating on a world plan," said the council "could not ignore the problems and troubles" of the world.

"While humanity is on the verge of a new era," the papal bull continued, "the church faces tasks of immense gravity and breadth as in the most tragic epochs of her history.

"They concern, in fact, the need of bringing the vivfying and perennial energies of the Gospel to the modern world—a world that exalts itself in its conquests in the technical and scientific fields."

The ecumenical council, known as Vatican II, will be the 21st in the history of the church.

The last council, known as Vatican I and called in 1869, proclaimed the infallibility of Roman pontiffs when teaching in their full authority on matters of faith and morals.

From the Protestant viewpoint, the concept of papal infallibility has provided one of the most important theological barriers to closer ties with the church of Rome.

EX-SEN. BREWSTER OF MAINE SUCCUMBS

GOP Lawmaker Was Long Time Foe Of Roosevelt's New Deal

BOSTON (AP) — Former U.S. Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine, an arch foe of Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal and for 18 years Maine's most potent political figure, died in a Christian Science retreat house yesterday. He was 73.

The Republican lawmaker and his wife had been at the Christian Science Benevolent Assn. House for a week.

Brewster, a former president of the Christian Science Mother Church, had made periodic retreats at the house.

He is survived by his widow, Dorothy, and a son, Charles, a Bangor, Maine, attorney.

Christian Science funeral services will be held in the First Universalist church in Dexter, Maine, Thursday at 2:30 p.m.

Brewster was defeated in his bid for a third Senate term in 1952. Since then he had lived quietly in semiretirement, spending nine months of the year in Washington and the rest in Dexter, his home town.

In his career Brewster clashed with many political opponents.

His most bitter feud was with Howard Hughes, millionaire plane and tool manufacturer.

In 1947 Brewster was chairman of a Senate War Investigating Committee. A subcommittee of that body investigated Hughes' World War II plane contracts.

Hughes claimed Brewster had offered to sidetrack the inquiry if Hughes would merge his Trans World Airlines with Pan American Airways. Brewster, in an unprecedented action, dropped his rights as a witness before his own committee to deny the accusation under oath.

Brewster was a member of a joint congressional committee that investigated the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. The majority said the failures that contributed to the disaster were the fault of only military men in Hawaii and Washington.

Brewster was one of two Republican senators who, in their dissent from the majority report, declared President Franklin D. Roosevelt "was responsible for the failure to enforce continuous, efficient and appropriate cooperation" in Washington "in evaluating information and dispatching clear and positive orders to the Hawaiian commanders."

A strong conservative, the Republican from Maine fought Roosevelt's New Deal. He particularly disliked its reciprocal trade program, dubbing it "Alice in Wonderland" economics.

However, he fully supported Roosevelt in the war, saying "if I am compelled to a choice between Roosevelt and Hitler, I choose Roosevelt."

Social Security Tax Rates To Go Up Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Social Security tax rates go up again Jan. 1, with the increased revenues helping meet the cost of benefit changes which became effective under amendments signed into law June 30.

The hike amounts to one-eighth of 1 per cent for employees and employers, and to two-tenths of 1 per cent for the self-employed.

This makes the new rate three and one-eighth per cent for employee and employer, or a total payroll tax of six and one-quarter per cent for each employee and 4.7 per cent for self-employed workers.

The tax applies to the first $4,800 of annual earnings by employees. The maximum annual mount of payroll tax will be $300 instead of the present $288, or $150 each on employee and employer instead of $144.

The new maximum tax for self-employed will be $225.60 insead of $216 a year.

Changes effective this year included: giving retired men the option to collect reduced benefits at 62 instead of at 65; increasing aged dependent widows' benefits by about 10 per cent; increasing the minimum from $33 to $40 a month.

Leaders Of Western World Plea For Peace

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Leaders of the Western world appealed for peace and unity in Christmas messages yesterday while expressing grave concern over differences dividing major powers and flareups troubling lesser ones.

President John F. Kennedy assured West Berliners in a taped television broadcast that the beacon of free Berlin "will continue to shine brightly for many years to come."

"We are at your side—as before," Kennedy declared. "We shall stay. Until truly there is good will among men, not walls to divide them, our pursuit of peace shall continue."

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt cabled Kennedy his appreciation, asserting that "Berliners will take upon themselves new burdens rather than to foresake convictions and principles which free men all over the world are willing to defend."

Churches were filled to capacity in both East and West Berlin. The grim concrete and barbed wire wall the Communists threw up to divide the city was softened a bit by the first Christmas snow in five years. About 800 lighted Christmas trees twinkled along the Western side of the wall to remind the East Berliners they were not forgotten.

Queen Elizabeth II said in a broadcast to the nations of the British Commonwealth: "We can only dispel the clouds of anxiety by the patient and determined efforts of us all. It cannot be done by condemning the past or by contracting out of the present. Angry words and accusations certainly don't do any good, however justified they may be."

Pope John XXIII, in a papal bulletin convoking a worldwide conference of the Roman Catholic Church next year for the first time since 1869, warned that "while humanity is on the verge of a new era, the church faces tasks of immense gravity and breadth as in the most tragic epochs of her history."

Palestinians, pilgrims and tourists packed the Christian churches at Jerusalem, and about 10,000 visitors journeyed across the Judean hills to services at Bethlehem, bathed in a brilliant winter sun.

Messages from Queen Juliana of the Netherlands and President Sukarno of Indonesia to their peoples reflected the rising tension between the two nations over Dutch-held West New Guinea.

Roman Catholic priests in Goa, biggest of the three enclaves which India captured last week, prayed for the prosperity of India at special services. The bishop of Pangim—the Goan capital—charged that the Portuguese had deprived Goans of full freedom and called Indian Prime Minister Nehru the world's No. 1 man of peace.

Aid Figures

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. aid to foreign nations totaled 5.2 billion dollars last fiscal year, but big repayments by other countries cut the net figure to 3.9 billion dollars, smallest since World War II.

This report, issued by the Commerce Department yesterday noted that the 5.2 billion dollars was the largest amount of military and economic aid since the 1953 fiscal year when it totaled $6,352,000,000.

Included in the figures were such items as Mutual Security, Food for Peace, Export-Import Bank, and other programs.

Biggest items were 1.7 billion dollars for military assistance a decline of about 300 million dollars from fiscal 1960, and 1.5 billion dollars in exports of farm products.

The department said the United States had provided 80.6 billion dollars in foreign aid from 1945 through June 30, 1961.

Dillinger Killer Dies

HOUSTON (AP)—John Vincent Murphy, one of the FBI agents who shot and killed desperado John Dillinger, is dead.

He died in a Houston rest home Saturday at the age of 66.

Murphy retired last year after 36 years with the FBI.

Reds' Differences

MOSCOW (UPI) — Hungarian Communist party leader Janos Kadar said today that reports of "differences" in the Communist camp were correct.

But Kadar, writing in the Soviet party newspaper Pravda, said the split between Albania and the Soviet bloc countries, amounted to no more than "discussions" and would not "ease the position of capitalism."

Kadar's article also included a bitter denunciation of the "criminal actions" of the Albanian Communist leaders, who have sided with Communist China. But he made no mention of any Hungarian plan to follow Moscow and break diplomatic relations with the Albanians.

Florida Has Coldest Christmas On Record

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The storm front that brought a white Christmas to a large area of the nation has spread numbing cold throughout the South, dropping temperatures below freezing as far south as Florida.

Farmers fired smudge pots last night in an attempt to ward off killing frost in agricultural sections of Florida, which had its coldest Christmas Day on record.

Forecaster Arnold Sugg said the icy Canadian cold front that caused blizzards in the north over the weekend had pushed through Florida and into the Caribbean Christmas Day. Low readings Monday included 42 at Miami, a record for Dec. 25.

Readings skidded into the 20s in much of northern Florida today. It was 27 at Jacksonville, 24 at Tallahassee, 38 in Tampa and 43 in Miami. Birmingham, Ala., reported 28 degrees.

In the Midwest, the area hardest hit by the snow storm, digging out still was going on. Rescue workers reached 12 persons Monday at a pumping station near Maryville, Mo., where they had been marooned several days by six-foot drifts.

Light snow was reported today from the western central Plains to the northeastern upper Great Lakes. Showers dampened the Pacific northwest, changing to snow in the mountains.

Skies were mostly cloudy across the northern part of the country, where temperatures were seasonably cold. Readings were mostly in the 20s but ranged as low as 4 degrees at Farmington, N.M., 5 at Glasgow, Mont., and 6 at Minot, N.D.

Temperatures were in the 50s in the desert regions of the Southwest and in extreme Southern California. Fog again blanketed most of the southern Pacific coast as well as the interior valleys of central and northern California.

Except for readings in the 50s and 60s in southern Texas, most of the rest of the nation had temperatures in the chilly 30s and 40s. Brownsville, Tex., had 63 degrees during the night, Corpus Christi reported 60.

Colombia Terror Gangs Strike— Death Toll Is 50

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—At least 50 worshippers were killed in a Christmas Eve outbreak of Colombia's persistent banditry and terrorism when a bomb exploded in the midst of a religious procession. Eighty persons were reported under arrest in the hunt for the terrorists.

The explosion occurred in the square of an artillery battalion barracks in the west Colombian city of Buga, 300 miles southwest of Bogota.

A communique placed the death toll at 50. Reports from the scene said 51 were killed and more than 110 injured.

The bomb went off as a procession of worshippers bearing a figure of the Christ child passed through the square to place the figure in a manger. A woman said she saw a man carrying a bundle through the crowd and he was one of the victims.

A flying piece of debris killed one man in a car. One report said the victims were injured by nails and other metal fragments.

The infirmary, the officers' club and other installations were badly damaged.

Gen. Alberto Ruiz Novoa, Colombian armed forces commander, said terrorists planned the bombing to gain entry to the barracks. It was believed they planned to steal arms and ammunition.

The national government in Bogota ordered the Red Cross to mobilize a disaster force for Buga. A private relief fund was started for the victims. The injured were taken to neighboring towns and urgent appeals were issued for blood donors.

Algeria Terrorists Kill 29 Over Holiday

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI)—Twenty-nine persons—most of them Moslems—died in three days of terrorist violence during Christmas in Algeria, police reported today.

Most of the bombings, shootings and knifings were blamed on Moslem nationalists. European terrorists of the extreme right wing Secret Army Organization (OAS) proclaimed a "truce of God" from Friday until today. The "truce" was broken by only two incidents blamed on OAS followers.

At least 40 persons were injured in more than 30 incidents that swept the country, police said.

Four French soldiers were among the Moslems' victims. They fell in ambushes while on rural patrols.

In one of the worst incidents, terrorists machine-gunned a cafe in Boufarik yesterday. Twelve Europeans were injured, one of whom died today in a hospital. Among the wounded was Antoine Navarro, 31, one of Algeria's former great football players.

In one OAS incident, Addaou Mohamed, 37, an executive of a liquid air company, was shot today by two Europeans. He was taken to hospital in serious condition.

(In metropolitan France at Berre, near Marseilles, rival Algerian nationalists clashed leaving four dead and five injured in a Christmas Day attack on two cafes. Police arrested two men in connection with the gun and grenade attacks.)

would be hired as quickly as possible, with regular guards doing extra duty meanwhile.

Prison authorities and district attorney's investigators still had not come up with any definite suspect in the slaying of Lopez nor that of Marcel Arthur Perez, 19-year-old Los Angeles car thief who was stabbed to death Dec. 16.

Inmates Robert G. Dorado and Alfred L. H. Jiminez have been charged with the slaying of Abel A. Nevarez, Los Angeles narcotics peddler killed Dec. 12 in the first of the current series. Inmate Michael Ison was still held in isolation as the No. 1 suspect in the killing of Devers, who was stabbed to death in the prison gymnasium only hours after he pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to a charge of conspiracy to smuggle narcotics into the prison.

The board majority—chairman Earl Marshall, William Kirk and Dr. Joseph Sereda—said they sought the resignation before year's end to prevent automatic renewal of Smith's contract under state law before further investigating some complaints involving him.

One matter linked to the Smith resignation is on the agenda for the board meeting: a report on possible annexation of San Jose School District. Smith's contract was renewed in November with a proviso that the renewal was void if unification of Novato and San Jose School districts failed in an election later that month. It was turned down by Novato voters. Principal campaigners against the unification were trustees Marshall and Kirk.

Iron Horse For Museum

CHICAGO (AP)—Old 2903, a giant steam locomotive donated by the Santa Fe Railway to the Museum of Science and Industry here, arrived by way of a bridle path.

The 340-ton railroad engine was inched toward its destination by repeatedly laying 14 39-foot track sections that were removed after the locomotive passed over them.

A tractor-dozer with a winch pulled the huge locomotive and an air compressor mounted on the tender supplied pressure for its braking system.

Engineers To Re-Advertise On Dredging

The Army Corps of Engineers will re-advertise late next month for bids for dredging the San Rafael Canal, it was announced today.

Bids were originally scheduled for opening last week, but the call was postponed. It was deferred indefinitely after the Corps of Engineers district office in San Francisco received a letter from L. E. Weisenburg Jr., East San Rafael developer, raising questions as to possible damage to filled lots in his San Rafael Newport Co. developmen from the dredging.

Difficulties have been ironed out and the bids wll be readvertised, City Manager Dan E. Andersen reported today. Rep. Clem Miller advised from Washington that the bids would be called late in January.

The project is to be financed by federal appropriation of $180,000.

City Atty. A. E. Bagshaw is to present the city council at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. today with an opinion as to legality of the city's signing an agreement absolving the Corps of Engineers from any liability for collapse of lots along the canal as a result of the dredging, and of the city's possible liability. The canal runs partly through city property and partly through privately owned property.

A resolution embodying pay raises for city employees is scheduled for vote at tonight's adjourned meeting of the council. An amendment to the sales tax ordinance to conform with new state law is scheduled for final passage.

State Bond Issue Votes Get Study

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A University of California expert has concluded the two-thirds majority vote required for most local bond issue elections in California has resulted in the defeat of many urgent proposals.

The report, prepared by the university's bureau of public administration by Frances L. Starner, said many of the bond proposals would have passed under less stringent laws, such as are found in other states.

The report did not make any recommendations for weakening the two-thirds voting requirement but obviously provided many reasons why this should be done.

The report noted that there had been numerous attempts to reduce the required vote to 60 per cent, 55 per cent or a simple majority and that, in some particular bond issues, this had been accomplished. However, it said the legislature had refused a number of times to make any blanket reduction in the required vote.

Proposals to bring this about are expected again in the future, probably at the 1962 legislative session, Starner reported.

"Two-thirds vote requirement has had a marked effect on the outcome of local general obligation bond elections in California cities and counties," the report said. "In sum, the need to obtain an extraordinary two-thirds majority has caused the failure of roughly half of all the bond issues proposed in these three jurisdictions (Los Angeles city and county and San Francisco) during the past decade. Roughly simlar results are obtained when the percentage of success is based on dollar amounts of the bond issues proposed."

What is a

SUBCUTANEOUS LIPOMA?

A subcutaneous lipoma is a fatty tumor found beneath the skin.

The study of tumors and all other phase of medicine is essential to our welfare. The more medical scientists our schools turn out the better for our country. Unfortunately many potential doctors and research men may never study medicine because they may never go to college. Already many of our colleges are overcrowded and in 10 years applications will double. We will need more and better college laboratories and thousands more of the highest quality professors.

SURPRISE CHRISTMAS GIFT FOR ANDREA

Andrea McLay of 95 Lomita Drive, Mill Valley, 18-year-old College of Marin student, won this Ford Falcon as an unexpected extra Christmas present in drawing Saturday evening at the Corte Madera Shopping Center. Assemblyman William T. Bagley (left), who drew the winning ticket, hands her the keys to her new car. Harry Kramar, president of the Corte Madera Merchants Council, which sponsored the give-away, is at right.

FAIRFAX MAN ONLY YULE JAIL ENTRANT

To Robert S. Smith of Fairfax goes the dubious distinction of being the only person booked at Marin County Jail on Christmas Day.

Smith, 41, a welder of 29 Azalea Avenue, was arrested by San Anselmo police about midnight Sunday after his car hit a power pole, a telephone pole and a parked car on Center Boulevard and Madrone Avenue.

Police said they found Smith in the wreckage of his car, bleeding profusely from the face and unable to extricate himself. The door had to be pried open to free him, police said.

Smith was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for cuts on lip and chin.

En route to the hospital, police said, Smith attempted to swallow several pills, later identified as nembutal.

Officers said Smith drove first into a power pole, backed off, then drove 96 feet directly into a telephone pole. Again he backed off, driving another 280 feet before crashing into the rear end of a parked car owned by Leonard Miller of 54 Madrone Avenue. The impact carried the car 45 feet, officers said.

Smith was booked at the county jail at 12:13 a.m. Christmas Day on charges of drunken driving and failure to have a license in his possession. Freed on $296 bail, he was ordered to appear in Municipa' Court on Thursday.

Two Inmate Dope Pleas Due Jan. 2

Pleas of two San Quentin convicts suspected of involvement in a prison narcotics conspiracy will be heard Jan. 2.

Clark McKeown, 30, San Francisco robber, and Benjamin Gonzales, 28, Los Angeles narcotics salesman, are two of five convicts suspected of smuggling about $18,000 worth of heroin into the prison.

The other convicts were Robert T. Ballentine, 34, Santa Clara murderer, who was sentenced on Monday to from one to 10 years by Judge Richard M. Sims Jr.; Thomas Devers, 24, who was slain at the prison on Dec. 18 after his court appearance, and Richard Rodriquez, 34, Los Angeles burglar.

Also suspected are two women, Mrs. Pauline Herrera, 31, of Los Angeles, suspected of being the source of the narcotics, and Marie Francis Hall, 47, mother of Devers. Both women are scheduled to enter pleas on Jan. 3.

Twenty of the 34 men who have been President of the United States served in the armed forces of the nation.

Nerves Affect Scholarship

LONDON (AP)—Nervous children who bite their nails and suck their thumbs are poorer students than those without these habits.

That is the conclusion of a 15-year study of 5,000 children, published by Dr. James Douglas and Dr. David Mulligan in the October issue of the Royal Society of Medicine's proceedings.

The children have been carefully studied since birth by home visitors, parents, teachers and doctors, who kept records and nervous "symptoms."

The experts discovered that the more nervous children were more prone to be absent from school, had more trouble passing examinations, worked less and obeyed less.

Mill Valley Planners Meeting On Blithedale

Mill Valley planning commissioners will hold a public hearing at their meeting at 8 p.m. today on zoning ordinance amendments to provide for establishing of an official plan line on East Blithedale Avenue between Camino Alto and Throckmorton avenues.

Purpose of this plan line is to permit eventual widening of East Blithedale.

BUT LIFE RESTORED

His Heart Stopped Beating Christmas Eve

Michael Jacobs' heart stopped beating when he suffered a seizure while dining at Sabella's Restaurant in Alto on Christmas Eve.

But a fellow diner—a doctor—restored Jacobs' heart action.

"It was a fine Christmas present," said proprietor Lou Sabella, "—his life."

Jacobs, a semi-retired resident of Hillsborough, was dining with his family at about 5:50 p.m. Sunday when he suffered a stroke.

Sabella called an ambulance. Alto Fire Chief Carl O. Heynen Jr., also having dinner with his family, called the fire department for a resuscitator.

Dr. Rolf Brunckhorst of San Francisco, also dining with his family, found that Jacobs' heart had stopped beating. He gave Jacobs closed chest heart massage treatment and restored heart action and breathing.

Jacobs returned home yesterday after being kept overnight at Marin General Hospital.

Plea Of Guilty To Dope Charge

Paul R. Bernhardt, 30-year-old Sausalito ex-convict, today pleaded guilty to an attempt to obtain narcotics by fraud.

Superior Judge N. Charles Brusatori set Jan. 15 for sentencing Bernhardt, who was arrested early this month by Mill Valley police and state narcotics agents.

Bernhardt, who has a long record of burglary, sex perversion and narcotics violations, was charged with writing his own prescriptions at drug stores in the Mill Valley area in order to obtain percodan, pills normally used for migraine headaches. Bernhardt, police said, dissolved the pills and injected them into himself with a hypodermic needle.

Arkansas Governor Race Begins

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark.) announced today he will run for the Democratic nomination for governor in the 1962 Arkansas primary.

Alford refused to answer whether he had talked over his candidacy with Gov. Orval Faubus. Nor would he say if he would talk to Faubus.

The congressman had been considered a potential candidate against Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.). In recent weeks he has made many speeches attacking foreign aid and other policies espoused by Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Alford gave up his practice as an eye doctor in 1958 to run against Rep. Brooks Hays after Hays defeated a segregationist in the Democratic primary.

Alford campaigned as an "independent" against Hays in 1958 but in 1960 returned to the Democratic fold.

Loaded Gun (Dice?) Lands Man In Jail

A Marin City man was jailed Saturday night after reportedly pulling a gun on a friend who accused him of using crooked dice in a floating dice game.

Lonnie Phillip, 48, of 59 Cole Street, was free on $1,050 bail after being arrested about 9 p.m. at the Pig Haven Restaurant on Highway 101 at Richardson Bay for posession of a loaded .32 caliber automatic pistol.

Sheriff's deputies accosted Phillip at the restaurant after Otis Given of 419 Drake Avenue, Marin City, told officers Phillip had threatened him with the pistol during a dice game in Marin City earlier in the evening.

Cole said he had lost about $50 in the game and suggested that the dice might be loaded. It was then, he said, that Phillip pulled the pistol and told him to "leave the dice alone."

Phillip was booked on two counts—carrying a concealed weapon and threatening with the weapon. He was scheduled to appear in Municipal Court on Thursday.

Agriculture Head Might Get Cabinet Rank In California

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown said today there's a strong possibility that he will give full cabinet rank to the state director of agriculture.

Farm organizations have protested bitterly against placing the department in the new Natural Resources Agency, headed by William E. Warne. They have urged the governor to continue the department's independent status.

Brown told his first Sacramento news conference in two months that he will announce his decision after a Dec. 29 meeting with the State Board of Agriculture.

Eight super-agencies have been set up under the governor's reorganization program, and these form the state cabinet.

If Brown agrees, agriculture will become the ninth agency all by itself. It's now included with water resources, conservation and beaches and parks.

The governor said he wants farm elements to feel that he's doing everything possible to promote California agriculture, and that he's not downgrading it.

In other fields, Brown:

1. Estimated savings in state salaries, travel and telephone expenses at 12.5 million dollars for the 1962-63 fiscal years.

2. Said he had asked his executive secretary, Charles A. O'Brien, and Finance Director Hale Champion to retain an efficiency expert to look over the state printing plant.

The plant has come under fire by legislators and private printers. Champion, in a recent report, recommended that an administrator appointed by the governor run the plant instead of the civil service state printer.

Brown said Champion's report indicated the plant is efficient but that improvements can be made.

3. Announced he'll leave Jan. 5 for four or five days in Washington. His schedule includes a speech before the National Press Club and conferences with federal officials and California congressmen.

Car Crashes, Kills Man In His Bed

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP) — An automobile full of teen-agers crashed through the wall of Otis Clevenger's bedroom early today and killed him in his bed.

Clevenger's wife, Florence, had just gotten out of bed to let in a daughter who was returning from a visit with friends. Mrs. Clevenger and the daughter escaped injury, as did the eight occupants of the car—seven boys and a girl.

The accident occurred at 2:15 a.m. at McConnell, four miles south of Logan, where the Clevengers' one-story frame house sits just six feet back from W. Va. 10.

State Trooper J. Tryall said the car, driven by 18-year-old James W. Grace, first veered off the icy road and into a ditch on the opposite side from the house.

In getting out of the ditch, Grace lost control and swerved across the highway; running into the house on the other side.

Clevenger, 54, was killed outright.

'U.S. Should Invade Cuba —Like Goa'

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials are declining to say anything about a declaration by Rep. L. Mendel Rivers (D-S.C.) that the United States should invade Cuba and demand that the United Nations sanction the action.

"If the United Nations can sanction India's invasion of Goa, it should sanction our invasion of Cuba," Rivers said in Charleston, S.C., last week.

State Department officials said they had no comment on the declaration, a course usually followed when members of Congress make observations about foreign affairs.

The comment, however, appeared to have sparked widespread interest in diplomatic circles here. Although some were inclined to believe the situations are not parallel, diplomats who consider the Fidel Castro regime a menace to the United States and to other American republics say the Cuban problem is not something that will just go away.

Dredge Is Helpless In Wind-Lashed Seas

BOSTON —A leaking dredge drifted helplessly in wind-lashed seas off the New England coast today and the nine-man crew appealed to the captain to abandon ship but he refused.

The skipper of the Canadian dredge Cartagena elected to take his chances in the battle against the sea that buffeted his ship in angry waves 20 feet high.

The Coast Guard cutter Acushnet, fighting desperately to get a tow line aboard the stricken dredge, succeeded once. But the thick hawser broke under the strain.

The cutter and dredge bobbed almost uncontrollably in the turbulent waters 200 miles off Cape Cod. Winds that once roared with hurricane force gusts subsided at dawn, raising hopes that a tow line could be secured to the dredge by nightfall.

In a terse radio message to the Coast Guard, the unidentified captain indicated he would stay with his ship. "The crew feels otherwise," the message said.

Even if the skipper agreed to quit the ship, the seas were too rough to transfer the men to the cutter, the Coast Guard said. It indicated that the captain and his men had no choice but to remain on the vessel, at least until the ocean calmed.

Estranged Mate Slays Wife, Self

LAWNDALE (AP)—Neighbors heard shots at a Lawndale home Christmas Day.

Sheriff's deputies found the home silent. A Christmas tree stood in the living room, surrounded by newly opened presents. Two children—William Arps, 4, and his sister, Sandra, 6—wouldn't speak. But they pointed mutely to the bathroom.

There officers found the body of William Arps, 24, and his estranged wife, Francine, 23.

Detectives said that Arps apparently killed his wife and then turned his pistol on himself when she refused his demands for a reconciliation.

Wife Injured In Auto Crash

Marilyn M. Durling, 20, of Bakersfield, was treated at Novato Hospital for an injured right knee after a car driven by her husband, Walter Ellis Durbing, 24, struck a parked car at 5:23 p.m. yesterday on Feliz Road, Novato.

Durling told Novato police he lost control because of a low rear tire. Durling's car hit one belonging to Cecil J. Nov of Forestville, knocking it into a third car owned by Lee N. Lancostly of 2042 Feliz Road.

KIOSK TAKES FORM IN SAUSALITO

This is neither a house in a Japanese garden nor a Russian church, but a bus depot at Bridgeway and Bay Street, being built for the City of Saucalito by Pool Construction Co. of San Francisco. "Russian influence" on the design by Charles E. Finney, Sausalito architect, was protested to the city council when the plans were considered last summer. The council decided the "onion dome" atop the bus shelter was really just a "gazebo."

90 Congolese Troops Joining U.N. Forces

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Ninety Congolese soldiers will put on the blue berets of the United Nations tomorrow to join the U.N. army at Kamina base, the United Nations announced today. They are to have the same status as any other national contingent in the U.N. Congo force.

They will be the first of more than 900 Congolese soldiers scheduled to serve eventually under the U.N. flag.

Their duties at Kamina, U.N. officials said, will be to guard the important U.N. base in Katanga Province and perform routine reconnaissance work alongside Indian, Swedish, Norwegian and Canadian troops based there.

U.N. headquarters made clear the Congolese are not to be used in any offensive actions against Katanga President Moise Tshombe's secessionist government. But their presence is likely to increase Tshombe's fear the United Nations may assist the central Congolese army to reoccupy Katanga by force.

The political crisis between the central government and Katanga settled into a nervous period of apprehension while officials waited to see if Tshombe would stick to the agreement he signed last week with with Premier Cyrille Adoula of the central government.

The first test of the Tshombe declaration, in which he promised in effect to end Katanga's secession, will come tomorrow when the Katanga members of Parliament are supposed to arrive to take up their places in the national legislature.

U.N. sources indicated that arrangements are being made to fly the 15 Katanga legislators to Leopoldville in a U.N. plane and house them here in accommodations guarded by the United Nations.

Canadians Take Gifts From Airmen

TRACADIE, N.B. (AP)—A Roman Catholic parish priest says that his parishioners snapped up Christmas gifts from U.S. airmen that were criticized locally as being of poor quality.

The Rev. Arthur Duguay said the shipment of fruit, chocolate bars and clothing from airmen at MacDill Air Force Base in Florida seemed to have "gone with the wind" in the nearby community of Brantville.

Airmen at the Florida base collected the Christmas gifts and had them flown more than 2,500 miles to Brantville after finding notes attached to imported Christmas trees telling of hard times.

Claude Savoie, member of the New Brunswick Legislature, contended that most of the fruit was spoiled and that the clothing was unusable. He called the offering an insult to the residents.

Father Duguay said his people appreciated the airmen's efforts.

FLIRTING WITH LAW

Police Chief's Son Is Victim Of Robbery

Whether they knew how dangerously they were flirting with the law remains to be seen.

Four robbers, one from 25 to 30 years old and the others younger, Saturday night held up Frank Nelson Jr., son of the Corte Madera police chief, at the Edgewater Inn where the junior Nelson is a clerk.

Nelson said the four obtained $120 from the cash drawer.

Young Nelson said he was sitting behind the counter reading a book about 10:50 p.m., when the intruders entered from the rear of the lobby.

"I thought nothing about it and returned to my book," he said. "One of them addressed me and I looked up and saw a gun pointing at me.

"When I saw that gun, I just automatically gave him the cash drawer. He mumbled something but I didn't hear what he said. All I could think of was that gun. I asked him to point it somewhere else, but he just told me to look down at the floor."

One of the three accomplices took the cash from the drawer and Nelson was ordered to jump over the counter.

"This has happened before. Go to the rest room and stay there for five minutes," the gunman ordered.

"I stayed there about 45 seconds," Nelson said. "Then I came out and called police."

Chief Nelson was off duty. Patrolman Howard Bailey responded to the alarm, but found no trace of the holdup quartet.

Auto Is Stolen

Somebody stole his 1962 light blue two-door sedan from the carport of his home at 520 Canal Street, San Rafael, Normand Sherwood Halsey told police Sunday. In the car were a $250 imported topcoat and $80 worth of liquor, candy and other items he had bought as Christmas gifts, he said.

Cow Pastures Now Indoors

NEW YORK (AP) — Cow pastures of the future may grow on steel instead of soil, according to "Steel Facts," publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute. The soilless agriculture is achieved by using hydroponics, a method of using water, nutrient chemicals, proper light, temperature and humidity.

A farmer in Ohio is growing supplemental feed for his cattle on steel trays stacked in a steel building. He harvests part of his crop each day — it grows about an inch daily.

An armadillo litter almost invariably consists of four identical young of the same sex. They develop from one fertilized egg.

Health Worker

NEW YORK (UPI)—About 2.5 million persons, one of every 30 persons employed in the United States, work at maintaining the nation's health. Within the past decade, the health field has risen from seventh to third place among the major U. S. industries in terms of number of persons employed, according to the Health Information Foundation.

Marin Scout Fund Gains Are Reported

The Marin Boy Scout Council already has made a substantial start in setting the pace for the $314,628 capital expansion program designed to develop Tamorancho and Marin-Sierra into fully operational scout camps, general chairman Fred R. Dickson reported today.

The "in family" division has reported $30,541 from within the membership, Dickson said.

Fog Causes Freak Accident On Waldo

A Sacramento stockbroker and his wife were injured early yesterday in a freak chain of accidents in fog on the Waldo Grade.

Luke Shang Chan, northbound on Highway 101 north of Spencer Avenue at 12:45 a.m., turned left and hit a curb. He said another car had crowded ahead of him.

His car flipped over onto its right side. Chan and his wife Fannie crawled out. Dr. Erich H. Niederreuther of 79 Bolsa Avenue, Mill Valley, drove up from behind and hit the overturned car, which in turn hit Mrs. Chan.

A third car driven by Kay Ellis of Burlingame followed the Niederreuther vehicle and struck one or the other of the two cars. The California Highway Patrol was unable to determine which of the first two cars was hit in this final episode.

Marin General Hospital treated Chan for bruises of the hands and body, and his wife for many leg and body cuts.

Californians eat an average of only 50 pounds of pork annually compared to the national average of 60.7 pounds.

10 Members Of Family Hurt In Fire

FONTANA (AP) — A blaze blamed by firemen on either faulty Christmas tree wiring or a defective floor furnace destroyed a one-story house and inflicted burns on 10 members of a family today.

Eight were children in the Ray Starry family. All of the victims' clothes and belongings, including Christmas presents, were consumed. Two firemen also were hurt.

Mrs. Rosemary Starry, 30, was burned critically in twice braving the flames to rescue the children and her husband.

Starry, 30, an aircraft worker invalided at home with a broken hip, was seriously burned as were his stepdaughters Donna, 6, and Cindy Sweiger, 8.

Horse On Highway Causes Car Crash

A horse on Highway 101 near Marinwood at 1:45 a.m. today caused an automobile crash in which a teen-age youth and his girl were hurt.

Michael James Lind, 19, of 15 Harbor Street, San Rafael, had taken 17-year-old Sandy Malone of 288 Bolling Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base, to call on his parents in San Rafael and they were returning to the air base.

Lind told the California Highway Patrol that he first saw the horse when it was less than three car-lengths ahead and he was hemmed in by another vehicle. With no way to turn, he braked hard, he said. His car struck the horse and went off the road.

Lind and Miss Malone were treated at San Rafael General Hospital for cuts and bruises.

The horse, later found to belong to Col. Ted Bacharach, 840 Montecillo Road, Terra Linda, was killed. The Marinwood Fire Department removed the dead horse.

CURED OF BORROWING

There was a meeting of the Grangers. The farmers came in one after another, and soon the little school-house was filled with an earnest, happy assembly.

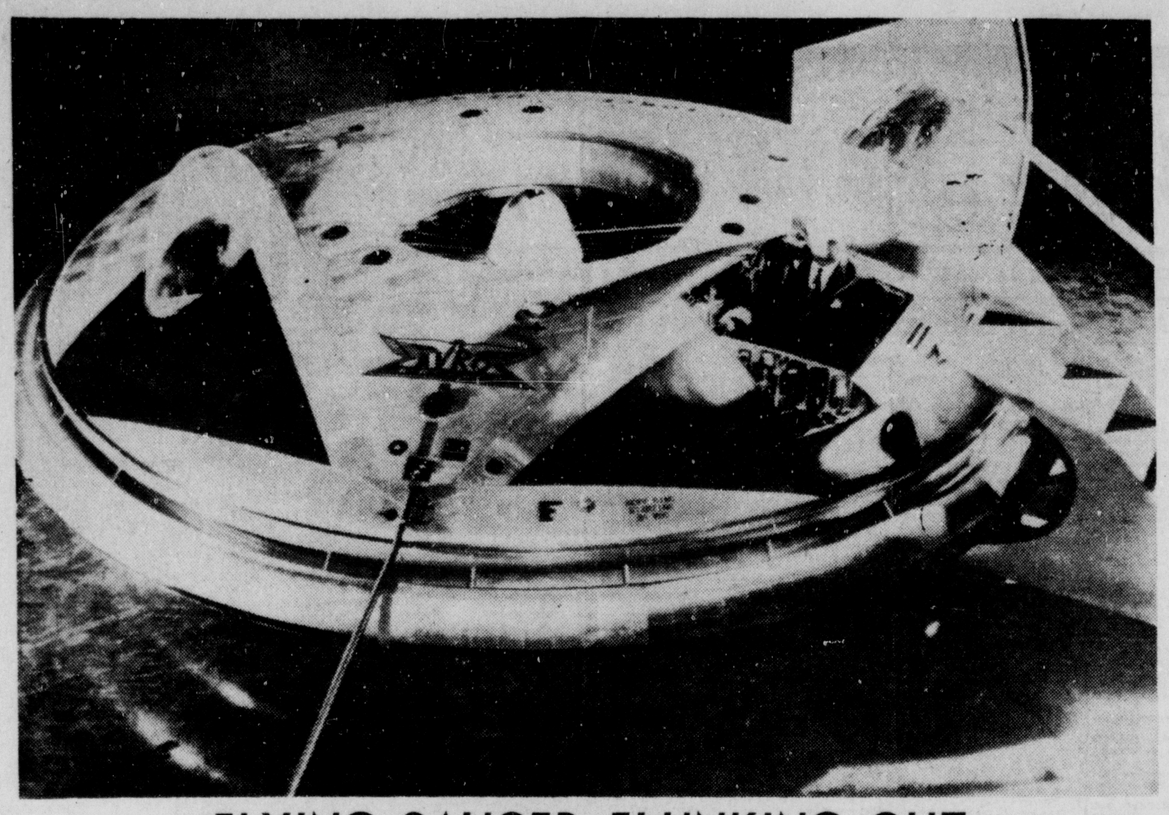
Jonathan Fuller, the chairman, rapped for order and called the roll. Every man answered to his name, with the exception of Mr. Hayden. Mr Fuller announced at the conclusion of the preliminary business that there was no particular theme for discussion and hoped that John Bangs would commence upon any subject he might choose. The whole meeting sneezed the audience with a cost.

Mr. Bangs arose and looked on the subject, to the nature of the room, as if he thought there was no inspiration in its dusty drapery. He then glanced at the floor and said he believed he had nothing to say. The room stamped and yelled, and then the chairman could be heard cries of "shame," "no meeting," "Hurrah for Bangs," etc., all of which quite frost the old farmer he mopped, and rather he knew it to was choking and he'd beg leave to speak. A stir was the signal, and Bangs shaved his throat.

"Well, I'm not that sort of critter as wants to make her I feelin's known each other. Let's when I need a sort I know I wants to take a horse drive and frighten it. If the sentiment afflicted and stamped. I am a God his own to the colonels. Then glanced at the chairman, who asked as if he had been alert, and turned his eyes from the speaker to a cow in the orchard. Now it is a good thing to have a Grange. It has a useful thing to know it can be strength in fact. It is the best organization we ever had. Heard laughter! I hope has been a mirror here for a long time to visit neighborhood. (Deep silence.) It is time to commence parting your own drivers on it. You all know what a believer I am in it to become, and mind a still disagreeable thing. It is my body. Heard coughing and stamping! As I said, I was a waiting many fourth, but it any of you interfere brethern or sisters as I have, you'll not blame me for using Caleb Hopkins is the worst witness we have. He believes everything. He is a regular jackass when he gets on the witness stand. Now it's only my way to come back, for we will all be as glad as heart; besides that, I want to get a word before the Lord of the new hay crop. As my words is all—I've done up the crop."

The label, entertainment address was followed by still clearing and excited applause of the whole room. Another speech of John Bangs was received with a cost.

Mr. Hayden arose and looked down to the floor



FLYING SAUCER FLUNKING OUT

Time and money are running out for America's first flying saucer — the disc-shaped AVROCAR. The Army is quietly pigeonholing the hush-hush project. The heavy cost of new missiles is a big factor. The saucer was not intended as a space vehicle, but was supposed to skim close to the ground on a cushion of air, dart between trees, dip into small valleys and generally hug the earth's surface—thus confounding enemy radar.

Great Boar Hunt Turns Out A Bust

The great boar hunt near Monterey over the weekend turned out to be a dog.

The pigeon hunters spoiled it.

Authority for this is special Deputy Sheriff Michael McLean, who went along as observer when George and Clem Sequeira of Marinwood obtained release of three of their pit bull dogs from the Marin County Humane Society shelter and sought to prove they had been trained to hunt boar.

George, 21, is a son, and Clem, also 21, a nephew of Joseph Sequiera. All three are charged with letting their dogs chew up stray dogs brought in from the street. They are awaiting trial in Marin Municipal Court.

McLean said Sunday night on returning from the Saturday-Sunday hunt in Camp Leggett that pigeon hunters spoiled the boar hunt.

McLean said the pigeon hunters made so much racket firing at their prey that "all the animals were driven inland" and it was impossible to learn whether the Sequeira dogs were trained for boar hunting.

Municipal Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson permitted the release of the bulls to make the hunt over the violent objections of Deputy Dist. Atty. P. Roy Vallarino and Humane Society secretary-manager Mel L. Morse. The request to approve the hunt was made by defense attorney William O. Weissich.

Brown Orders Probe Of Bridge Hump

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown today directed the state highway administrator to make an investigation of traffic obstructions on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge because the governor's "patience has been drawn as fine as those of the commuters."

The bridge currently is undergoing complicated reconstruction which has caused traffic congestion and delay for commuters.

"The daily newspaper accounts of accidents and delays on the . . . bridge convey a strong sense of indifference to public needs which cannot be tolerated," Brown said.

He asked administrator Robert R. Bradford, as his "personal representative," to make an "on-the-scene" investigation and "make it clear to all concerned that my patience has been drawn as fine as those of the commuters who depend on the bridge for their livelihood."

"I want everyone to bear down as hard on the project in the future as they have on the public in the past," the governor said, noting that "a contract with the state of California for reconstruction of public works is a contract with the people."

Brown authorized Bradford "to take any steps you deem necessary to insure an absolute minimum of traffic interruption in the future. I particularly insist that the public be given ample warning and full explanation when the project will unavoidably cause delays in traffic movements."

The governor said both he and the public realize that the complicated bridge construction job cannot be carried out without some measure of inconvenience and interruption of traffic.

"This does not mean that we should tolerate the use of legitimate construction difficulties to mask a public-be-damned attitude," he said.

In 1954 a squall over Lake Michigan created a single giant wave, five to 20 feet high, that struck the Chicago shoreline and drowned seven persons.

Three Astronomers Discover New 'Odd-Ball' Star In Heavens

PASADENA (UPI)—Three astronomers at the California Institute of Technology have found an "odd-ball" star—so odd that one scientist believes a whole new study of high energy nuclear reactions would be required to explain it.

Doctors Jesse Greenstein, Jun Jugaku and Wallace Sargent recently completed a spectroscopic analysis of the unique star, called 3 Centauri A.

This is what they found:

The stellar object, which is in a cluster of 100 to 200 normal stars about 3,500 trillion miles from earth, is about 20 million years old.

It does not rotate, although its atmospheric temperature of 27,000 degrees is three times hotter than the sun. Hot stars usually rotate rapidly.

The star is the first in which the rare isotope helium 3 and in which krypton, a product of atomic fission, have been found with certainty.

The atmosphere of 3 Centauri A has 10,000 times more of the very rare element gallium than normal, 100 times more phosphorous, five times more nitrogen and four times more iron. It is short on normal amounts of oxygen and helium.

The unique star has five times the mass and radius of the earth's sun.

Although it is the same age and luminosity of the so-called magnetic stars—it has no magnetic field.

Dr. Sargent theorized it is possible that "the star's gaseous atmosphere has structures similar to sunspots in which very powerful magnetic fields exist."

Dr. Greenstein believes 3 Centuri A has so many composition pecularities it will take a "whole new study of high energy nuclear reactions" to analyze the find.

Peace Corpsman In Colombia Asks Where U.S. Funds Go

DENVER (UPI)—James E. Gregory, 21, a Peace Corps volunteer who is in Colombia, says the question most often asked him is what happens to the money the United States gives the country.

Gregory, in a letter to the Rocky Mountain News that was published today said answering the question is his biggest problem.

"We read in the papers that the U. S. has just appropriated more money for Colombia and they say that the money will be used for the people. I want to know why we have not seen any of this money in our village," Gregory wrote.

"Others say that the money comes to Colombia but never gets out of the government offices in Bogota. I don't know what can be done. I do know that the people are willing and ready to work to improve their lives but they also need the help and cooperation of the Colombian government."

Gregory, Colorado's first Peace Corps volunteer, left last August for a remote village in Colombia. The village is high in the Andes Mountains in southwest Colombia.

He reported living standards were poor.

"The water here is not only filled with parasites, but in many cases is much worse than common ditch water. One village I know of has only a trickle of water for 150 houses that also served as a livestock trough and hog wallow before it reaches the village.

"Most of the farms are five to 10 acres and have poor yields due to insects, mineral deficiencies and poor farming methods."

The tall, blond, bespectacled youth said, "The mountains here equal those in Colorado for ruggedness and beauty."

His parents, Virgil and Helen Gregory, operate a 70-acre farm near Longmont, Colo.

Car Painted In Park Lot

Somebody staged an old fashioned Halloween-type stunt by crudely painting his car white while it was parked at the Bermuda Palms Motel Saturday night, David Zappatini of 124 Bungalow Avenue, San Rafael, told police.

He said he discovered the paint splashed on the car when he returned to it early Sunday.

Patrolman Leo Schwab said several large cans of white paint were missing from a painter's truck which was parked nearby.

MARRIED 25 YEARS

Child Bride Ready For Anniversary

TREADWAY, Tenn. (AP) — Mrs. Charlie Johns will be 34 years old when she and her husband celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary next month.

"I'd do it all over again," said Johns, who was 22 when he married Eunice Winsted, 9, near this east Tennessee mountain town Jan. 19, 1937.

"I've never been sorry or regretted it," Johns told the Knoxville Journal in a copyright interview, the first Johns had granted in nine years. "She has always been as good to me as could be. She's a good mother and a good housekeeper."

Their marriage caused a national uproar and the Tennessee Legislature later made 16 the minimum age for marriage in the state.

The Johns have nine children. Eight still live on their 65-acre farm which provides a simple but ample living for the family. The oldest daughter, Evelyn, now 18, was married last year to John Henry Antrican. Charlie objected to the marriage at first, but later gave the couple his blessing.

"We get along together as good or better than other couples I know," Charlie said. "I guess she'd do it again if she had it to do over. I've never asked her that. She hasn't had it too bad, or any worse than folks we know.

"We don't go out much. I go to the store a couple of times a week and Eunice goes to the doctor now and then. That's about it. We don't dislike people; we just don't trust many of them."

He said his marriage and family life is "no one's business but ours, but it's okay to let them know how it turned out."

Uncertain Future For Five Orphans

WARREN, Pa. (AP) — Mrs. Walter M. Campman isn't certain about the future of her five granddaughters orphaned and injured in a traffic crash that killed their parents the day before Christmas.

The children — Judy, 15; Rita, 13; Mona, 10; Sandra, 11; and Janet, 3—are listed in fair condition at Warren General Hospital.

They were hurt in an auto-station wagon collision that killed their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Campman of Falconer, N.Y.

Also killed in the crash were Lloyd Palmer, 45, and Kathleen Smith, 37, both of nearby Irvine. Each is survived by five children.

The elder Mr. and Mrs. Campman were hosts Sunday for their son, daughter-in-law, and five granddaughters.

State police said an auto driven by Mrs. Smith swung left to go around a car ahead and smashed headon into the station wagon.

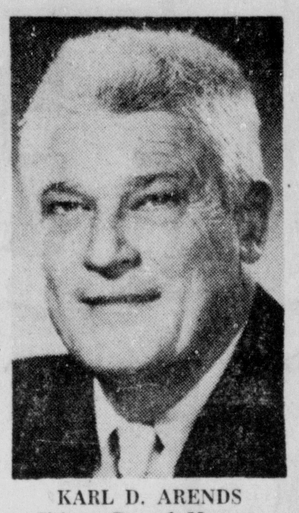
SAVINGS, LOAN FIRM OPENING A BRANCH



KARL D. ARENDS
Citizens Branch Manager

Citizens Federal Savings and Loan Assn. will open a branch office in the new Northgate Shopping Center in Terra Linda Wednesday.

The branch will be managed by Karl D. Arends, assistant vice president, announced F. Marion Donahoe, president. Arends formerly managed the Citizens branch at 301 Market Street, San Francisco.

Until it occupies large new quarters next summer in the center's main building, to start construction early next year, the branch will be in temporary quarters next to the Purity Store.

Citizens Federal's branch, first branch to be opened in Marin by a federally chartered savings and loan association, is not new to Marin citizens, Donahoe said. He said that the association has more than 12 million dollars in home loans in the county.

The association has seven other branches in San Francisco, Oakland and Palo Alto.

The association was founded in 1885 and is the oldest federally chartered savings and loan association in the state, Donahoe said.

"Over the years," he added, "we've provided many people in Marin County with home financing and an increasing number of Marin County residents are also savings customers at our present offices."

He said Marin depositors may have their accounts transferred to the new Northgate office or leave them where they are.

Total assets of Citizens Federal have increased by nearly 25 million dollars in 1961. The year's growth is more than the total growth in the association's first 69 years of existence. Total assets now are more than 124 million dollars. Savings accounts total more than 106 million dollars.

Twelve of Citizens' 115 employees live in Marin. Both the teliers in the new office are Marin residents: Marianne Aramburu of Sausalito and June Crabb of San Anselmo.

Arends, the new branch's manager, is a graduate of University of Chicago. Before joining Citizens seven years ago, he was with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. in Chicago. Before that he spent 10 years with commercial banks in Ohio and Illinois.

Before his assignment in Marin he most recently served as savings officer at the association's headquarters at 706 Market Street, San Francisco.

State's Personnel Board Recommends Salary Hikes

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The state personnel board has recommended to Gov. Edmund G. Brown that state salaries be increased across-the-board by 5 per cent as of Jan. 1, as well as adjustments in salary for certain classes.

Total costs of the raise for a full year would be 47.5 million dollars, including 24.5 million from the general fund and 23 million from special funds.

The cost of the raise from January to June, in the 1961-62 fiscal year would be about 20.8 million dollars, the board said.

Brown has said he would make a state pay raise a top priority subject for the 1962 session. At a recent convention of the California state employes association, Brown said he would make the pay increase retroactive to Jan. 1.

The personnel board, which makes an annual report to the governor at about this time of the year, said salaries and wages in private industry in October were about 4.8 per cent higher than those for the same jobs in state government. If clerical positions were included, the industry jobs paid 6.1 per cent more than comparable positions with the state.

"The data from private and governmental employers justify a general salary adjustment of 5 per cent as of Jan. 1, 1962, for practically all state employes," the personnel board said.

In the 1961 session of the legislature, salary increases were granted to about 10,800 employes in the psychiatric technician classes. In the 1960 budget session, the legislature voted a 6 per cent increase for state employes but this was cut back to 5 per cent by Governor Brown.

The board said the increases in addition to the flat 5 per cent next year should be for specific adjustments to "meet greater changes in rates in certain occupational areas in private industry and other" jurisdictions.

Family Hurt As Car Is Hit

A Belvedere man and his wife and 8-year-old daughter complained of neck whiplash injuries Saturday night after the car in which they were riding was struck from the rear by another auto on Tiburon Highway at Reed Ranch Road.

Joseph R. Cross, 37, of 4 Burrell Court, southbound on the boulevard, was turning his 1958 small British car left into Reed Ranch Road. A car driven by Ellison F. Ebey, 52, of 2028 Paradise Drive, hit it from the rear, the California Highway Patrol said.

Cross said he, his wife Jean, 36, and their daughter Donna Jo, would see their own doctor.

University Of Beirut Has Large Enrollment

BEIRUT (UPI) — The American University of Beirut has an enrollment of 2,970 from 54 countries, according to the university's registrar. That is nearly half again as many students as registered for the last school year.

Women students this year number 654. Arab students account for about 78 per cent of the student body. The university dates back to 1866.

Soprano Will Perform At Mill Valley Church

Soprano Lucille Harrell Dorn and pianist John Roberts, both of Mill Valley, will present Friday night a program of German Lieder, French and Italian art songs and other numbers as a benefit for the building fund of the Marin Assembly of God Church.

The concert will take place at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the church located at the corner of East Blithedale and Sycamore Avenues in Mill Valley.

The first half of the program will be composed of a group of German Lieder by Schubert, Marx, Schumann, Brahms and Strauss, a group of Italian songs by Paisello, Respighi, Pergolesi and Pizetti, and Elsa's aria "Traum from Wagner's opera "Lohengrin."

After intermission Roberts will play a group of piano selections. Miss Dorn will sing for the last half of the program a group of songs by Rachmaninoff, St. Leger, Grovlez and Paladilhe, two songs for a child by Lockram Johnson, banjo song by Sydney Homer, a Negro spiritual and a song from the American Indian opera "Shanewis" by Charles Wakefield Cadman.

Wood In Subways

NEW YORK (UPI) — It will surprise many people to learn that the New York subways are among the world's biggest users of wood. The subways use the wood for cross ties in the tracks and because of the frequency of train service, the life of the ties is relatively short. They also use wood for guard rails and catwalks.

Tell Me When I'm Wrong-Khrushchev

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev has urged lesser Soviet officials to tell him when he is wrong and not meekly to accept directives.

His declaration was made last week at a conference of agricultural officials in the Ukraine and published yesterday by Pravda, the Communist party paper.

Khrushchev's remark was provoked by P. A. Vlasyuk, president of the Ukrainian Academy of Agriculture.

Vlasyuk had apparently said that in a criticized method of crop rotation, he had followed suggestions made by Khrushchev.

To this Pravda said Khrushchev replied:

"I can make a mistake but you, if you are an honest scientist, you should tell me: 'Comrade Khrushchev you do not understand that question altogether correctly.' If you explain to me how to correctly understand a question, then I would thank you for it."

Mother, Children In Auto Mishap

As a young Novato mother looked at a Christmas tree across the street, she drove into a parked one and one-half ton flatbed truck Saturday night, the California Highway Patrol said.

The accident happened on Nancy Street 100 feet north of Louise Street, west of Novato. Mrs. Jean Ann Pedroza, 29, of 613 Louise Street, Novato, and her daughter Rose Marie, 8, were treated for cuts and bruises at Novato Hospital. A son, Mike, 6, was not hurt.

West Stars Unveil Sharp Pass Attack

Kansas Act Hits Targets

STANFORD (UPI) — The West Shrine team unveiled its passing attack yesterday and it was a beauty.

Quarterback John Hadl of Kansas did most of the passing, specializing in roll-out passes. Mel Melin of Washington State preferred to stay in the pocket in the classic manner.

They threw to a lanky bunch of receivers in Baylor's Bobby Lane, Oscar Donahue of San Jose State and Buddy Iles of TCU.

Kansas halfback Curt McClinton, who has been the apple of the West coaching staff eye here, was around to take the short safety-valve passes when the ends were well guarded.

The West team is expected to try to use passing and speed to get around the big East team when the two squads clash Dec. 30 in Kezar Stadium.

SANTA CLARA (UPI)—There will be nothing fancy or mysterious about the East offense in the forthcoming Shrine game, according to coach Joe Kuharich.

"Outside of maybe a dazzler or two, we're not going in with the idea of trying to fool anybody," the Notre Dame mentor said today.

Ernie Davis and Bob Ferguson were doing most of the ballpacking in yesterday's drills and Kuharich all but admitted that would about be the story in the Shrine game.

Then there will be Ron Miller or Roman Gabriel to throw a pass for an occasional change of pace.

Fate Echols, mammoth linebacker from Northwestern, suffered a mild ankle twist yesterday and retreated to the dressing room. He was expected to return to action in a day or two.

UPENDED—California's George Pierovich upends Washington State quarterback Mel Melin (24) as the West team mixed it up vigorously in a workout in preparation for Saturday's Shrine classic to be played in San Francisco's Kezar Stadium. (UPI Photo)

Trojans Lose Star Back To Pro Team

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — One Christmas present of Southern California football coach John McKay was to find out the player he called "the best defensive back in the nation," Jim Bates, had bypassed his final year of collegiate ball to sign a pro contract.

McKay, naturally, wasn't too happy over the situation yesterday. Neither were other USC athletic officials when they learned Bates had signed with the American Football League San Diego Chargers.

Drake Pirates To Take On Alumni Team

Drake High School will launch tomorrow what it hopes will become a holiday basketball tradition at the school.

The Pirates will square off against Drake alumni in the first such contest in the history of the school. A "B" game will start at 7 o'clock in the Drake gym, to be followed at 8:30 by the varsity contest.

Drake athletic officials noted that the scheduling of the game during the holidays will make it possible for many former Drake stars now in college to participate in the event. All ex-Drake athletes interested in participating are asked to report at the Drake gym prior to the 7 o'clock tilt.

The varsity is expected to face such former Pirate stars as Don Cockburn (University of Pacific), Bill Gallagher (San Francisco University), Joe McGrath (San Jose State), Joe and Ron (USF) Cox, Warren Miller and Tony Bailey.

If the evening is a success, it will become an annual event, Drake coaches said.

Man Of The Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Sport magazine today in its February issue named Roger Maris of the New York Yankees as sport's "man of the year."

SPORTS SHORTS OF ALL SORTS

Hockey Seals Open Home Stand Against Spokane's Comets Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Spokane Comets invade the Cow Palace tonight for the first game of a two-night stand with the San Francisco Seals.

Bev Bentley, the Seals' goalie, blanked Seattle 3-0 Saturday night, his third shutout of the season. If he can continue the good work, San Francisco may start climbing.

In Western Hockey League games yesterday, Portland beat the Los Angeles Blades 4-1 and Vancouver edged Seattle 2-1.

Celtics Roll On

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

If the Boston Celtics' supremacy in the National Basketball Assn. is ever to be challenged, their Eastern Division rivals will have to stop playing "dead."

Boston took on eastern "cousin" Syracuse Christmas night and didn't do any gift-giving, handing the Nationals a 127-122 defeat.

In other NBA contests, the Chicago Packers, fined $2,500 for showing up late by league president Maurice Podoloff, got revenge against the Detroit Pistons with a 118-97 victory in the opener of a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden; the Knickerbockers outlasted the Warriors, 136-135, in double overtime, and Elgin Baylor's 40 points paced the Los Angeles Lakers over the Cincinnati Royals, 141-127.

Saints Face Jets

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Saints, undefeated in their last nine home games, entertain the Los Angeles Jets tonight in the first of a two-game series.

The two squads will meet again Thursday night.

In an American Basketball League game played yesterday, the Pittsburgh Rens moved into first place by nipping the Cleveland Pipers 108-106.

Oiler Coach Happy

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — It's like taking over the New York Yankees in midseason," happy Wally Lemm said after his Houston Oilers won their second American Football League championship.

"I was real lucky to step in here with all this material."

The Oilers beat San Diego, 10-3, Sunday to complete the AFL's rags-to-riches story for this year.

Coast Fives Slated For Heavy Action

Tournaments In Spotlight For This Week

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

West Coast basketball resumes today and swings into fever tempo tomorrow when holiday tournament action dominates the scene.

The West Coast Athletic Conference Tournament opens today when Loyola (6-2) meets guest team San Francisco State (0-7) and the host USF (3-5) team faces University of Pacific (4-5).

Loyola, defending WCAC champ, is co-favorite along with Santa Clara.

The Broncs (8-1) face Pepperdine (5-2) tomorrow in one contest and San Jose State (6-3) meets St. Mary's (3-4) in the remaining battle.

Losers battle losers Thursday and then winners meet winners Friday and Saturday night.

TOP TEAMS

Tomorrow's action will also find six of the nation's top 20 teams opening fire at the third annual Los Angeles Basketball Classic.

The eight competitors have a combined 43-12 mark with the six nationally ranked squads 38-5 among them. Some of those bright records are doomed to be sullied this week.

Ohio State, unanimous pick for the No. 1 team in the latest UPI poll, is the team to beat but there's plenty of backing around for fourth-ranked Southern California, ninth-ranked West Virginia, tenth-ranked Utah, 12th-ranked Purdue, and 20th-ranked Washington.

Army and UCLA round out the field and must definitely be rated as underdogs.

AT PORTLAND

At Portland, eight teams open the annual Far West Classic tomorrow. California will represent the Big Five and Michigan and Michigan State will be there from the Big Ten.

Oregon, Oregon State, Portland, Washington State and Idaho will round out the field with the Beavers the strong favorite.

Unbeaten Seattle is at Oklahoma City for the annual All-College Tournament there.

Thus every leading basketball team on the coast except Stanford and the Arizona teams will face the roughest type of competition during the rest of the week in a preview of forthcoming conference and NCAA competition.

Aussie Stars Sweep Foes From Court

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI)—Roy Emerson and Rod Laver, ignoring a broiling sun that sent the temperature over the 100-degree mark, gave Australia a 2-0 lead over Italy in the Davis Cup challenge round today by winning their opening singles matches.

Emerson, who won the American championship at Forest Hills, N. Y., last September by downing Laver in the final, needed only 90 minutes to whip Nicola Pietrangeli, 8-6, 6-4, 6-0. Then Laver, the Wimbledon champion, chased towering Orlando Sirola off the court, 6-1, 6-4, 6-3.

The straight set victories, witnessed by 1,000 cheering partisans at the Kooyong Tennis Stadium, left the vanquished Italians panting for breath. It also left the Aussies needing only one more victory.

It's Tourney Time For College Cagers

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Cincinnati and Providence, winners of the two major post-season tournaments of the 1960-61 college baskebtall campaign, head a powerful eight-team field in the Holiday Festival Tournament which highlights the annual rash of Christmas-week tournaments around the nation.

The Holiday Festival begins at Madison Square Garden today with afternoon and evening doubleheaders. Another fine field of eight also starts play today in the first annual Quaker City Tournament at Philadelphia.

At Oklahoma City, Wichita is back to defend its title against such strong clubs as Utah State, Seattle, Houston and Bowling Green in the All-College Tournament, which also gets under way today.

MORE COMING

These three tournaments will hold the national spotlight for themselves only briefly, however, because something like 25 Christmas-week tournaments will be played by next Saturday night. These include the Los Angeles Classic; the Big Eight Tournament at Kansas City; the Far West Classic at Portland, Ore.; the Gulf Classic at Shreveport, La.—all starting tomorrow.

The Queen City Tournament at Buffalo, N. Y., the Sun Carnival at El Paso, Tex., the Hurricane Classic at Miami, Fla., and the Downeast Classic at Bangor, Me., begins on Thursday.

The Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, La., the Motor City Classic at Detroit and the Evansville Holiday Tournament at Evansville, Ind., begin Friday.

TOP HOOPFEST

The 10-year-old Holiday Festival Tournament has had its ups and downs but shapes up this year as the No. 1 Christmas tournament.

Cincinnati, last season's NCAA Tournament champion and now the nation's second-ranked team, and Providence, surprise winner of the 1961 National Invitation Tournament and now ranked No. 4 nationally, are both entered in the powerful field. New York University, St. John's of New York, Wisconsin, Dayton, La Salle and Dartmouth are the other entries.

Cincinnati goes against St. John's in one half of today's afternoon doubleheader with La Salle matched against Dartmouth in the other game. In the night doubleheader, it will be Providence against Wisconsin and Dayton against New York University. The Dayton-NYU game matches the only two undefeated teams in the tournament against each other.

AT PHILADELPHIA

The pairings in the Quaker City Tournament are Duquesne vs. Wyoming, Penn State vs. Iowa, Pennsylvania vs. Holy Cross, and Villanova vs. Niagara. Duquesne, making a powerful bid to rank among the nation's top teams as it was in the 1950s, is rated the most dangerous team in the field.

Ohio State, the nation's first-ranked team, journeys to the West Coast to play in the Los Angeles tournament, Dec. 27-30. Also entered in this one is fifth-ranked Southern California. Kansas State, ranked No. 3, is in the Big Eight tournament.

The FISHIN' FOOL

If You Discard Leopard Shark, You Throw Away Good Eating

STEVENS

Every once in awhile someone catches a leopard shark. More often than not, he removes the hook and throws the shark back, after killing it. But occasionally a guy or gal, wise to the eatability of said fish, gloats over the catch and takes it home. That happened recently at China Camp, according to Grace Quan.

"Some folks would rather have one leopard shark to eat than three striped bass," I suggested when Grace told me of the five-foot leopard shark a San Francisco angler brought back to the landing and then placed it in the trunk of his car.

"You're telling me!" exclaimed Grace Quan. "I feel the same way about it. I make Chinese fishballs whenever I can get a leopard shark!"

My ears came to attention. "Chinese fish balls," I said. "How are they made?"

"You grind up the shark meat with salted peanuts and green onion tops. Form them into balls and drop them into boiling water. When the balls rise to the top of the boiling water they are done. Take them out and eat them. Honestly, they are delicious. Some folks pour some soy sauce over the balls on the plate."

So there is another fish dish for some of you to try. But, whether you make Chinese fish balls or merely prepare the leopard shark as fillets or stakes or baked or boiled with butter sauce, be sure that it is one of the tastiest of fish to be found anywhere in these parts. Mind you, I am speaking of the leopard shark—not the dog shark.

REGARDING other species of fish taken recently out of China Camp, lots of flounders and very few bass have been coming in. One tom cod was taken from the wharf as were a few rather small bass. But bad weather and lack of fishermen have added up to a slow period the past week.

Sid McMullin of Caruso's place at Sausalito verified reports that the action in Richardson's Bay has slowed down a great deal. Best bets at present seem to be trolling off Belvedere Point and California City. Lots of fair to excellent results from those areas. Especially has that been true of the anglers who worked from small boats and could get into water too shallow for the larger craft.

Joe Nerviani of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia reported fishing rather slow with 11 boats out on Saturday with about a bass per boat. But 30 nice flounders were unloaded. Joe mentioned most of the flounders were taken near the pipeline and Corregidor.

ON THE CONTRA Costa side of the bay, fishing has been rather slow on the whole for bass, but the boys using bullheads still are getting the bigger fish. Frank Joseph, of Joseph's rowboat harbor at Rodeo, told me only 15 bass were brought in on Saturday but they ran to 17½ pounds. That 30-pounder that was reported taken in that general area is unverified, and still a mystery as to who caught it and where.

Frank said anyone fishing for flounders can get plenty of them by the radar screen and between buoys 10 and 12. (Use small hooks and small pieces of bait for your flounders.)

APPARENTLY the duck shooters are staying home in the upper San Pablo Bay region. Not too many birds in the air and, with a limit of four, the hunters are discouraged, I guess.

Reports have it that the north coast streams are high and too colored for steelhead fishing. Should be a different story if the rain holds off a few more days.

Mrs. Sumpter Takes Home Sabella Trophy

Mrs. Lynn Sumpter of Corte Madera emerged as winner of the Sabella trophy for women golfers for 1961 at the Mill Valley Golf Club.

Mrs. Sumpter fired an 86-18-68 last week to win December honors. It was her third triumph in the monthly competition and thus gave her permanent possession of the trophy with the best record for 1961.

Her 86-18-68 also gave her the best score among Class A competitors in the turkey tournament also held in conjunction with last week's guest day play for ladies. Mrs. George Prydz of San Anselmo was the Class A runnerup — 82-13-69. In Class B, Mrs. W. A. Van Buskirk of San Anselmo won with a 98-26-72 and Mrs. Hugh Cavalli of Mill Valley was second with a 100-27-73.

Mrs. Fred Northway of San Francisco was honored as the year's most improved golfer and Mrs. Van Buskirk was the runnerup for that honor.

Sports Chronology Of '61 Finds Upsets, Surprises

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

A month-by-month perusal of sports in 1961—a year mixed with surprises, upsets, failures and disaster—might best tell the story of how things went.

JANUARY began with the American Football League taking its first season into the new year as Houston's Oilers beat the Los Angeles Chargers, 24-16. Washington upset Minnesota, the No. 1 college team, 17-7, in the Rose Bowl. Missouri's ground game stopped Navy, 21-14, as standout Joe Bellino was held to four yards rushing. Mississippi topped Rice, 14-6, in the Sugar Bowl and Duke edged Arkansas, 7-6, in the Cotton Bowl.

Frank Lane left Cleveland as general manager and wound up in Kansas City with Joe Gordon, a manager he had discarded twice before.

North Carolina and Loyola of New Orleans were put on one-year probation by the NCAA for basketball recruiting violations. Arizona drew a penalty for illegal football recruiting. Allie Sherman became coach of the New York Football Giants and the Dodgers of Los Angeles rehired Leo Durocher to coach third base. The NCAA restored Oklahoma, Southern California and Tulsa to good standing. Denver dropped college football. Norm Van Brocklin signed to coach the Minnesota Vikings in football and the Philadelphia Eagles named Nick Skorich. Prove It won the Santa Anita Maturity. Russia's Valery Brumel high jumped a record 7 feet 4½ inches. French trotter Jamin was bought by an American syndicate for $800,000.

FEBRUARY saw Little Sister, a toy poodle, win best in show at the Westminster while Carry Back, a 3-year-old colt, nipped Crozier in the Flamingo. Miss Laurence Owen added the North American figure skating title to her national crown. Dick Savitt, 33, won national indoor tennis honors. Eighteen U.S. figure skaters were killed when the plane taking them to the world championships at Prague crashed in Brussels. Marvin Panch averaged 149 m.p.h. in taking the Daytona Beach 500-mile auto race.

MARCH had Gene Fullmer beating Ray Robinson for the middleweight title and Floyd Patterson scoring another kayo—this time in six rounds—over Ingemar Johansson in Miami Beach. Montreal won its fourth straight National Hockey League crown as the New York Mets, due to join Houston in the 10-team National League in 1962, added George Weiss as president. Two New Yorkers bought the Cleveland Browns and gave Paul Brown an eight-year coaching contract. College basketball scandals broke out in another rash. Cincinnati upset unbeaten Ohio State, 70-65, in overtime for the NCAA basketball title. Providence upset St. Louis, 62-59 in the national invitation final. Bob Burdick of Omaha won the 500-mile Atlanta stock car race and Johnny Longden, 54, rode his 5,500th winner.

APRIL was another profitable month for Carry Back who again beat Crozier a head, this time in the Florida Derby. Emile Griffith stopped Benny Paret in the 13th for the welterweight title. South Africa's Gary Player won the Masters by one stroke over Arnold Palmer and amateur Charley Coe. Boston's Celtics trimmed the St. Louis Hawks, 121-112, to retain the NBA basketball honors, 4 games to 1. Chicago's Black Hawks won their first Stanley Cup in 23 years, beating Detroit 5-1 and 4-2 in games. Warren Spahn, 40, pitched a no-hit, no-run game against the Giants. Two days later Willie Mays blasted four homers against Milwaukee. Jackie Jensen quit the Red Sox without saying "goodbye." He was hitting .130 in his comeback. Chief of Chiefs was drugged after winning at Aqueduct. It was the track's second doping in six weeks. Lightweight champion Joe Brown went to London and again easily disposed of Dave Charnley. Steve Clark, 17, Los Altos, Calif., and Chet Jastremski, 20, Toledo, were the stars of the AAU indoor swimming tests at Yale.

MAY found the United States trimming Russia repeatedly in amateur basketball. Willie Shoemaker rode his 4,000th winner to join three others. Favored Carry Back gained possession of Crozier with a three-quarter length victory in the Kentucky Derby. The third drugging of a horse in seven weeks was uncovered at Aqueduct. Carry Back found a new rival and beat Globemaster three parts of a length in the Preakness. A. J. Foyt of Dallas won the Indianapolis 500.

JUNE saw Sherluck, 65 to 1, take the Belmont as Carry Back ran seventh. Sam Snead, 49, won the International golf event and teamed with Jimmy Demaret, Arnold Palmer's sub, to win the Canada Cup team event. Archie Moore beat Guilio Renaldi for the light heavy title in a listless bout. Gene Littler surprised by beating Doug Sanders by one shot for the National Open title. Hank Bauer replaced Joe Gordon as Kansas City manager. Jack Nicklaus won the NCAA golf crown. Villanova's Frank Budd won the 100-yard AAU dash title in a world record 0:09.2.

JULY was good to some golfers. Mickey Wright rallied to win her third Women's National Open, Palmer took the British Open by one shot. Jerry Barber, 45, beat Don January in a playoff for the PGA title and Jacky Cupit, a PGA tour newcomer from Texas, won the Canadian Open, Johnny Keane replaced Solly Hemus as St. Louis Cardinal manager. Australia's Rod Laver beat Charles McKinley for the Wimbledon tennis title. In a windy San Francisco setting, the National League won the first All-Star game, 5-4, in 10 innings. In the return game in Boston the American League played the NL to a 1-1 rained out nine-inning tie. Su Mac Lad got home first in the International Trot.

AUGUST saw some changes as Frank McGuire left North Carolina to become coach of the Philadelphia Warriors. Stormy Frank Lane departed as Kansas City's general manager. The Philadelphia Phillies set a modern record by losing 23 straight baseball games.

SEPTEMBER brought a few more alterations as Birdie Tebbetts replaced Chuck Dressen as pilot of Milwaukee's Braves and Paul Richards left Baltimore to become general manager of Houston's new team. Jack Nicklaus, 21, won his second U.S. Amateur golf title, 8 and 6. The U.S. retained the Walker Cup with an 11-1 win over the British. Oakland's Raiders of the AFL dropped Coach Ed Erdelatz for assistant Marty Feldman. Harry Craft left the Chicago Cubs' 10-man managerial board to take over the one-man managerial post with the Houston Colts. Cincinnati won its first National League pennant since 1940. Roger Maris hit No. 59 as the Yankees won in the American League. Maris hit homer No. 60 off Baltimore's Jack Fisher. The PGA dropped Sam Snead from the Ryder Cup team and suspended Tommy Bolt for the second time in three months for playing in an unsanctioned Cincinnati pro-amateur. Casey Stengel decided to return to baseball at 72 to manage the New York Mets. Henry T. Adlos won the Little Brown Jug, taking two of the last four heats. Benny Paret regained the welterweight title, beating Emile Griffith on a split decision. Italy ended the U.S. Davis Cup hopes with a 4-1 interzone win in Rome.

OCTOBER brought the end of the long baseball season as Maris belted homer No. 61 off Boston's Tracy Stallard in the 162nd game of the expanded AL schedule. Norman Cash of Detroit (.361) and Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente (.351) won the batting titles. Jimmie Dykes was fired as Cleveland manager and replaced by Mel McGaha. The opening game of the World's Series went to the Yankees, 2-0, as Whitey Ford pitched his third straight post-season shutout. Cincinnati evened the series, 6-2. Maris' ninth-inning homer, after John Blanchard had tied it, beat the Reds, 3-2. Yankees 7, Reds 0 as Ford went five innings to break Babe Ruth's series pitching record by tossing 32 straight runless innings. The Yankees trampled the Reds, 13-5, to take the classic, 4 games to 1. U.S. golfers beat the British, 14½-9½, to retain the Ryder Cup.

NOVEMBER had two big football upsets the same day when LSU spoiled Mississippi's No. 1 hopes with a 10-7 triumph and Minnesota turned back top-ranked Michigan State, 13-0. Crimson Satan, under Willie Shoemaker, circled his field to win the $301,335 Garden State. Two weeks later Crimson Satan easily won the Pimlico Futurity. TV Lark outgamed Kelso in the International at Bowie. No. 1 Texas suffered a crushing setback at the hands of TCU, 6-0. Adios Don won the $145,378 Messenger, harness racing's richest purse. Maris and Cincinnati's Frank Robinson were voted the most valuable player awards. Unbeated Alabama was voted No. 1 football team.

DECEMBER was the same old story. Navy beat Army for the third straight year, this time 13-7, and West Point coach Dale Hall lost his job. SMU dropped Bill Meek. And Floyd Patterson dropped Tom McNeeley for the 10 count in 2:51 of the fourth round in Toronto. Alabama was voted No. 1 football team in The Associated Press poll. Gene Fullmer retained his middleweight crown, stopping welterweight champion Benny Paret in 10 rounds. Ohio State's Bob Ferguson gets Maxwell Award.

Gophers Are Believed To Be Eyeing Airways

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The emphasis may be on the pass today when the University of Minnesota football team resumes practice for the Rose Bowl game, despte the Gophers' reputation as a conservative team content to run and control the ball.

The Minnesota team took one day out for Christmas, but got back to a working schedule today. Coach Murray Warmath has kept the Gophers active—a mild word as far as the Minnesota team is concerned—in fundamentals and defensive drills.

But quarterback Sandy Stephens, an all-America for his leadership in the 1961 campaign, has a good passing record and there was speculation he may throw more often against UCLA. Principal receivers include left end Tom Hall, with three touchdowns to his credit, but Stephens also user a variety of other Gopher ends and backs as targets.

The Minnesota team planned a tour of a movie studio this afternoon.

Bruins To Ease Up In Practice

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The UCLA football team holds one more workout at Spaulding Field today before taking a trip to Long Beach to polish up its attack for the Rose Bowl contest while "out of town."

No more hard work is in store physically for the Bruins prior to the game, according to coach Bill Barnes. But Barnes indicated he would stress execution and timing in the remaining workouts at Long Beach.

Pro Scouts Watching Blue-Gray Contest

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Scouts from many professional football teams will be watching the 23rd annual Blue-Gray game Dec. 30, and the record indicates they'll take sharp notice of what they see.

Current rosters of both the American and National Football leagues list scores of players who saw action in the Blue-Gray while college seniors.

SHORT OF THE GOAL—In the final moments of last night's Shriners North-South all-star game at Miami, Fla., Steve Simms ,No. 45, North fullback, failed to score from the one-yard-line in this thrust as he rammed into the goal post. Others in the action are Bill Kirchiro, 72, Pat Smith, 58, Ray Farris, 10, and Dean Wright, 23, all of the South, and Nolen Jones, 33, Lee Hall, 66 (on the ground), and Eddie Wilson, 11, of the North. The South dominated the game to win 35-10. (AP Wirephoto)

Baylor's Bobby Ply Steals The Show

By OSCAR FRALEY

MIAMI (UPI)—Baylor's Bobby Ply, sought by the Pittsburgh Steelers and the rival pro League's Dallas Cowboys, was an even more sought after prospect today as the outstanding player in the North-South Shrine game.

Ply stole the show and passed the North right out of the Orange Bowl before 18,892 chilled spectators last night as his three scoring passes and personal touchdown smash led the South to an easy 35-10 conquest.

The Southwest Conference ace completed 14 passes in 26 attempts for 185 yards and touchdowns via the airways to Tennessee's Glenn Glass and Miami's Larry Wilson and Bill Miller in 50-degree temperature. The other South score came on an 18-yard touchdown sprint by Miami's Jim Vollenweider. Roland Jackson of Rice booted all five extra points.

Michigan's Bennie McCrae scored the lone North touchdown on a five-yard pass from Arizona's Eddie Wilson and also backed over for a two-point conversion. Two other North threats which bore no fruit were a 65-yard kickoff return by Arizona State's Nolen Jones and a game record 73-yard pass from Wilson to George Sefcik of Notre Dame.

That last thrust came in the final moments of the game and gave the North a first down on the South two yard line. But the North couldn't wallop it across. Ply, on the last play of the game, tried to pass from his own end zone, partially fumbled the ball and was downed by Larry Bowie of Purdue for a North safety.

Still, the six foot, one inch, 190-pound Ply deservedly was voted the outstanding player of the game.

He flipped a 45-yard touchdown pass to Glass and his aerials set up Vollenweider's 18-yard scoring run in the first quarter to send the South off winging.

Ply pitched for 15 and ran for 13 more in this scoring drive before he personally sneaked it over from the one to give the South the lead.

Wilson got one back for the North when a 65-yard drive paid off with his five-yard scoring toss to McRae. But that was the end of the evening for the North—whose Larry Onesti of Northwestern was named its outstanding player—except for Ply's last play yield of a safety.

Ply meanwhile fired the South 64 yards to a touchdown, ended by his eight-yard toss to Wilson and then swept the South 54 yards to a windup touchdown on a six-yard flip to Miller.

Auto Industry Started 1961 Bad, Ended In Good Shape

By BEN PHLEGAR

DETROIT (AP) — Throughout 1961 the auto industry clung to the theory that things had to get better—and they did.

In February, sales were the lowest for the month since the Korean War. In October and early November sales were at record highs for the period.

Layoffs and short work weeks were the rule in the first part of the year. Added manpower and overtime kept assembly lines humming in the closing months.

The manufacturers were talking in glowing terms of 1962 prospects with optimistic forecasts calling for sales of seven or one-quarter million cars, and about the equal of record 1955.

With the signing of three-year union contracts, labor peace seemed assured. One of the rare dark spots on the horizon was the possibility of a steel strike after June 30.

Ford and General Motors were closed two weeks by strikes prior to final agreements with the United Auto Workers Union. Despite this, production of 1962 model cars between the model changeover dates in August and Dec. 31 was expected to hit a record 2.3 million.

Total production for the calendar year of roughly 5.5 million cars will be about 1.2 million under the 1960 figure. During the 1961 model year, 5,408,625 cars were built.

This was the year of the bucket seat. Following the spectacular success of the Corvair Monza, every manufacturer introduced one or more bucket seat models, mostly in the compact car lines.

Compacts accounted for about 35 per cent of all sales. A new size classification emerged with the 1962 model year—the intermediate. Plymouth and Dodge chopped their size and fitted into this category where they were joined by two new Ford products, the Ford Fairlane and Mercury Meteor.

Six-cylinder engines continued to increase in popularity, being fitted into 45.4 per cent of all 1961 models. This compared with 43.4 per cent in 1960 and only 28 per cent of the 1959 models.

Chevrolet was the biggest-selling standard car by a wide margin over Ford while the Ford Falcon was the No. 1 selling compact. For the third straight year average prices of new cars remained unchanged.

The trend in the new cars was to longer intervals between maintenance, especially chassis lubrication.

Profits were down with Chrysler reporting losses in the first and third quarters and Studebaker-Packard in the first three quarters.

OVER THE HIGH jump goes "Rajah" the butterfly dog of Mr. and Mrs. Wint F. Saint of Sausalito, while his mistress watches. He has achieved best of breed rating in six California shows and is continuing his educational training until he qualifies for a CDX (companion dog excellent) degree. Breeders carefully screen those to whom they sell these sensitive dogs, Mrs. Saint says.

HER FAVORITE hobby, Rajah takes much of Mrs. Saint's time, and she is proud of the many trophies he has won. "He's just a ham actor," she says when he growls.

HERE RAJAH TAKES the broad jump in the style that fulfilled requirements in one of three shows to earn him a CDX degree. Next comes the "Utility Dog" degree.

Butterfly Dog 'Rajah' Working On 'Ph. D' Degree In Dogdom

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Raising dogs is not an unusual hobby, but Mrs. Wint F. Saint's hobby is one dog—a most unusual "butterfly" dog.

No, he doesn't point and flush butterflies. The dainty breed of spaniel is named Papillon (pronounced pappy-yawn), the French word for butterfly, because the dogs' faces with spreading fringed ears resemble butterflies.

Mrs. Saint, who lives in Sausalito and is second vice president of the Sausalito Woman's Club, has refused other responsibilities carrying prestige in order to devote most of her time to "Champion Saints' Rajah of Carousel."

Rajah, as he is called, greeted us at the door with a great show of growling and wrestling a rubber bone—all a performance, for he has the gentlest of dispositions. "He's just a ham actor," said his mistress.

Rajah is a six-pound fellow with a red and white coat of long hair like spun nylon that washes and brushes quickly into a tangle-free fluff.

"He was born Dec. 2, 1959, and we've had him since he was two months old," Mrs. Saint explained. "We bought him at the Carousel Kennels in Mountain View. That's why 'Carousel' appears in his name.

"You might be interested to know that breeders of Papillons select owners for their dogs almost as carefully as authorities screen prospective parents for an adopted child. They will not sell to some people because the dogs are so sensitive.

"First I'll tell you something about the breed. It appeared as early as the 16th century with France and Belgium both claiming its origin. It isn't very well known in this country because there are only about 200 in the entire United States.

"At first they were drooped-eared like other spaniel breeds, but by the time the Belgians and French perfected them, they had erect ears. Today they may have either type, but not one ear up and one down.

"As for their personalities, they are so gay that they have been called 'the dance music of the breeds'. Yet they make good watch dogs without being yappy.

"These little dogs became great favorites with court ladies and royal children and were often painted by artists such as Rubens, Titian, Tintoretto, Fragonard, Murillo, Velasquez and Renoir.

"They love people and other animals, even cats," she said.

At this point the other family pet, Caesar, a 17-pound black cat, was called in and the affection shown for each other would solve the problems of the world if it could be shared by nations supposedly as inevitable enemies as cats and dogs.

"Perhaps the most remarkable thing about the breed," Mrs. Saint said, "is its intelligence."

At six months of age Rajah was comparable to a child prodigy, and Mrs. Saint enrolled him in an obedience class conducted in Kentfield by the noted dog trainer Neva Corboff.

Before he was a year old he had won his C.D. (companion dog) degree, in three consecutive shows instead of just any three shows as most dogs do.

He is still in training under Neva Corboff in San Francisco and has now fulfilled requirements in one of the three shows necessary for a CDX (companion dog excellent) degree.

After that he will go on to qualify for "utility dog"—the Ph.D. of dogdom, Mrs. Saint explained.

What are some of the accomplishments of the holder of a CDX degree? Mrs. Saint went on, "he must heel off leash, drop on recall, retrieve a dumbbell over a high jump or on the flat, make a broad jump, sit for three minutes on command, and lie down for five minutes on command while the owner is absent."

Rajah then demonstrated these feats with all the grace and aplomb of a show dog in the ring.

When he qualifies for "utility dog," he will be able to pick out by scent articles of wood, leather and metal han-

GRACE LUTHERAN Church in Novato was the setting for the nuptials of Anna Britte Young and Ronald L. Cox. (Milton Mann photo)

Anna Britte Young Is Wed In Novato

Grace Lutheran Church in Novato was the setting for the recent wedding of Anna Britte Young and Ronald Leland Cox of San Anselmo. The Rev. Arthur Koehler performed the double ring ceremony for which Anna was given in marriage by her father, Albert Young of Novato.

She chose an ivory peau de soie sheath with bouffant sides forming a short train, and lace trimming the bodice.

Jone Linnea Young was maid of honor for her sister and the other attendants were her sister, Catharine Birgetta Young, Margo Merle, Carol Gruetart and Laurie Crafte. All wore shocking pink taffeta dresses and carried white satin muffs.

Best man for his brother was Joseph Leon Cox, and ushers were Michael Smith, Jack Dufton, Earl Nelson and Edward DeMartini.

After the wedding a reception was given at Maison Marin and the couple left on a wedding trip to Carmel for two weeks.

The bride attended San Rafael High School and San Jose State College and studied for 10 months in Sweden. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Young of Novato.

Ronald, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Cox of San Anselmo, is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and attended the University of San Francisco. He is employed by Cox Construction Co. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Perle Pedrotti and Charles Cox.

DONA ASHOFF BERG

Let Yule Trees Be For Birds

NEW YORK (UPI) — That Christmas tree still can be useful—for the birds.

An author of a book on Christmas trees suggested that the tree be placed in the garden or backyard and "decorated" with foods for feathered friends.

Tie suet to the branches to get visits from nuthatches and woodpeckers, said Glenn O. Blough, professor of education at the University of Maryland, and author of "Christmas Trees and How They Grow" (Whittlesey House, McGraw-Hill).

Mix peanut butter and cornmeal, spread the paste into the scales of a large pine cone, and hang it on the tree for chickadees. Use paper ice cream cups or a jar top to hold seeds for the seed-eating birds. Or, pour a mixture of suet and wild bird seed into an empty can, let harden, then cut out the bottom so that the birds can eat from both ends.

Engagement Of Mill Valley Pair Just Announced

Just announced is the engagement of Dona Ashoff Berg to Craig Conzelman, both of Mill Valley.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Robert C. Berg of Mill Valley and Edward A. Ashoff of Sausalito, and the parents of the future bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Conzelman of Mill Valley.

Dona expects to be graduated from Tamalpais High School in June. She has three sisters, Diane Ashoff, and Phyllis and Barbara Berg.

Craig attended Tamalpais High School and is serving with the U.S. Coast Guard at Pt. Bonita Lighthouse.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Curving Grosgrain Ribbons Is Done With A Steam Iron

By EUNICE FARMER

Winner of the tailor trix pressing board for best suggestion of the week is Mrs. Dick Weidemeyer, Bayside, Va., who sent this letter.

"Here is a little helpful hint that a milliner friend told me about how to curve grosgrain ribbons, even as much as a circle if you want to:

"Using a steam iron, lay the ribbon flat on a pressing board in the shape of a curve or a circle. Press firmly, bearing down and stretching the outer edge of the ribbon with the iron as you go. You may use the steam iron so the ribbon will become slightly damp and will be easier to stretch.

"Grosgrain binding is made by folding the ribbon in the center, pressing the two halves together and then proceeding to curve in a circle as explained above."

"I don't have too much trouble pressing the shape of a garment, but the curved seams that appear from the shoulder or the armhole down to the waist baffle me completely. I simply can't get this kind of a seam pressed smooth.

Mrs. F.J.H.

Dear Mrs. F.J.H.:

You have undoubtedly forgotten that this curved seam consists of an inner and an outer curve. The inner curve must be clipped, as illustrated, right down to the seam line to release the curved edge. The outer curve must be notched out to take out the excess fabric. This must be done before you begin pressing and you will find the shaped area will be nice and smooth. Remember not to press this entire area flat or you will shrink out the fullness needed for the bustline area.

"When I am making a circular skirt, which is naturally very curved at the waistline, I have a great deal of difficulty applying this curved seam to the straight waistband. Have you any good ideas for me?"

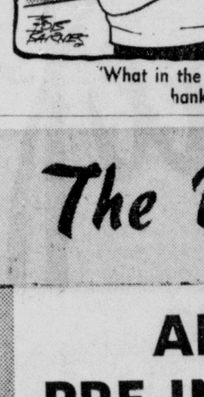
Mrs. T.N.M.

Dear Mrs. T.N.M.:

This is just another simple little problem that is "Sew Simple" with a little know-how. First, machine stitch the waistline of the skirt, on the exact 5/8" seamline.

Second, clip about every inch, to the stitching line. You will find that the fabric will now be released enough to lay smooth and fit very easily when applying the waistband.

Your sewing glossary: Horsehair Braid: A springy, open weave edging which comes in different widths and is used to give body to very sheer fabrics. If used in the hem of chiffon or organza, it will keep the hem from sagging.



Please send all questions and suggestions to Sew Simple, in care of the Independent-Journal Women's Dept.

Dust Mop Ease

A new dry dust mop takes half the work out of housework, the manufacturer reports. To free the mophead of all dust, lint and dirt, the homemaker need only apply push-pull action on an outer plastic sleeve on the handle. This sets the mop's shaking mechanism into action—sending the mophead swirling vigorously from one side to the other.

AMONG THOSE who maintained the Christmas eve watch in the stable at the Indian Valley Ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Davies were Robin Patrick and Robert DeBaun with the Davies' new burro, Merry, and their dog G.G., as well as some of the sheep they keep. The Davies have made a tradition of the midnight watch for the Christmas star to arise in the east signalling the start of the holy day. (Independent-Journal photo)

Burro, Sheep Join Novatans In Watch For Christmas Star

BY DOROTHY NEWELL

The donkey stood by the manager in the stable. Nearby stood the sheep watching out of the stable door to the east. Inside the stable were a man and wife with two children, watching for the star to arise in the east, heralding Christmas.

This was not Bethlehem 20 centuries ago, but the Indian Valley Ranch home in Novato of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Davies, on Christmas eve.

Mr. and Mrs. Davies invited two neighborhood children to be with them for the Christmas eve watch to wait for the star at midnight and welcome Christmas. Robert De Baun and Robin Patrick were the ten-year-old youngsters included on the midnight watch. Robert is the son of Mrs. Peter De Baun and grandson of a neighbor, Mrs. Robert Creighton Wright of Indian Valley. Robin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Patrick of Novato.

A TRADITION

A Christmas eve watch is traditional each year at the Davies home which started when his mother lived in San Bernadino County. Other people stayed up to watch the new year come in, so why not stay up and watch for the Christmas star and greet Christmas?

The center of attraction this year was a Mexican burro named Merry. This real donkey is an addition to their menagerie which climaxes Mr. Davies desire to own a donkey. Mrs. Davies got him his first donkey in the form of an imported French print cover for a sofa which has donkeys in the print. The next donkey added to the Davies household was a donkey in the original Rubin painting, "Flight to Egypt." This year Mrs. Davies thought she had the desire fulfilled with a leather donkey imported form England. When this cute little two-foot high donkey arrived, Mr. Davies said, "I still want a live donkey."

NOW A LIVE ONE

So last week they drove to the old Nicasio ranch and bought Merry, a six month old jenny burro. She has just been weaned from her mother, so craves a lot of attention, which she is getting.

In the new stables which have just been built, Merry has seven Suffolk sheep as company along with G. G. (Good Girl), the Davies dog which goes to see her often in the stable, which is decorated with handmade Navajo rugs.

For the special Christmas eve party, Merry was draped with a Navajo rug, two saddle pillows, bells from the royal stables of Holland, which the Davies had acquired in their world travels, and a halter which Mrs. Davies had made of wool yarn.

Other guests at the Christmas party were Messrs. and Mesdames John Countryman, L. L. Rosendahl, and Robert Johnson, the Morris Patricks and Mesdames Wright and De Baun.

Rajah Wins The Ribbons

dled by his owner and bring them to her on command of "get mine." He will also obey hand signals to perform various actions, though his owner may be so far away that he can hardly see her.

Pointing to a wall covered with ribbons and to many trophies and prizes, Mrs. Saint said proudly, "he has won best of breed ratings in six California shows and received his 'champion' title, or best representative of the breed in a show, at the Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club show on July 2 when he was 18 months old."

Mrs. Saint's husband, a food broker in San Francisco, is as proud of the tiny dog as she is, and though he gets bored with shows, on the whole will go anywhere to watch Rajah perform.

"We didn't get him with the idea of making a show dog out of him," his mistress declared, "and we're not out to make spectacular records—we're just fascinated with seeing how much he can do."

"You must make them do what they are supposed to do until they get it right," she concluded.

The Saints have no children, and "Rajah and Caesar are our family," she said. And many people would be happy if they had such a well behaved one.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

This Hostess Having Tough Time Because Of Ship's Delay

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Hostess duties at the holiday season are always complicated, there's always the problem of getting a good kitchen staff and waiters, choosing a guest list, when so many party dates conflict, as well as planning the menu. But consider the troubles Mary Baumgarten is having. She and Frank invited the Capt. Alfonso Toneatti and other officers of the Italian passenger-freighter Galileo Ferraris to be their dinner guests Christmas Day as the men would be far away from their homes in Italy. Then they invited several girls who lived in Italy and can speak Italian and several other friends.

Then came "the word." The ship would not be in port Christmas. It was delayed by storms in the north and there was also trouble because of a shortage of stevadores. The dinner was postponed and the other guests notified. It is tentatively set for tonight and will take place if the ship is in port. Otherwise it will be given later. Among those invited to the dinner, in addition to the captain and ship officers, are Capt. Gennaro Maione, Pacific Coast representative for Italian Lines, Mrs. Chapin Parsons, her daughter, Cynthia Parsons, Ann Hammond, a senior at Stanford University who studied at the university's campus in Florence, Italy, Gay Pollock of Sacramento, Mrs. Hazel Luce of Portland, Ore., who travels extensively and is a passenger on the Galileo Ferraris. The Baumgartens met her when they made the round trip cruise on this ship to Vancouver, B.C. in August.

Mary and Frank were so delighted with the ship and the friendliness of its men that the day they returned they took the captain and officers on a grand tour of Marin County, to their home at Ridgeview Farm, Fairfax and to visit friends in Belvedere. There the Italians had a busman's holiday boating on the Lagoon.

A CHAMPAGNE cocktail party was given recently by Mr. and Mrs. Harris Johnson, long-time residents of Strawberry, who moved to Greenbrae last year.

VACATIONING at Yosemite are the Russell Rices and their family, the Robert Bagnalls, Alex Tarics, Bud Howards and Allen Steinaus.

MRS. WALLACE SCOTT of Belvedere gave a tea last week honoring her new neighbor, Mrs. Warren Bechtel. The Bechtels formerly resided in San Francisco.

A HOLIDAY PARTY was given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kettenbach at their Belvedere home. Co-hosts were Mr. and Mrs. David Ross. The central point of interest was the wassail bowl. The beverage was made from a traditional English recipe, "one yard of flannel."

MR. and MRS. MORGAN LA RUE of Belvedere returned home after an extended visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Falter, at Crow Hill Farm near Philadelphia. The La Rues also went to New York and Washington, D.C.

Offenders Should Be Reported To Provide Maximum Protection

(Q) "My daughter is 5. She was molested four days ago, but no physical injury resulted. The offender was a neighbor boy. He is 16. I have not reported the offense to the police. I don't want my girl to think that something unusual or shocking has happened to her. I understand that nearly all little girls undergo somewhat similar experiences. Isn't it better to have her take it in a matter-of-fact way, and then forget it?" Mrs. K. R.

(A) No, it is not. In effect you'd be teaching her that it is normal to be molested. You can imagine what might happen if she grew up believing that. She should have protection and the boy should be given the treatment he needs. I urge you to report what happened. Go to the police right away.

(Q) "I've been trying to persuade the principal to skip my son. He is in fifth grade. He is bright, big for his age and he reads better than most sixth graders. Even so the principal won't move him. Must I abide by that man's decision?" T. T.

(A) Yes, you must. Try to realize that he is an expert, and you aren't. The law gives him the responsibility for putting children in what he believes to be their right grades, and keeping them there. The most you can do is ask the principal to investigate, then let him draw his own conclusion.

(Q) "Our baby is 3 weeks old. We weigh her before and after eating. She is breast fed. I'm puzzled by the variations in her appetite. Sometimes she gorges, and gains a lot. At other meals she is finicky, and hardly swallows anything. Yet she is well and strong. Her weight is going up normally. Do all children have changeable appetites?" V. N.

(A) Yes, they do. You'll get used to it. Perhaps you should talk to her doctor. He'll explain further.

Today is Tuesday, Dec. 26, the 360th day of the year with five to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1776, about 1,000 Hessian troops were captured by the forces of George Washington at Trenton, N.J.

In 1865, James Nason of Franklin, Mass., was awarded a patent for his invention of a coffee percolator.

In 1917, by order of President Woodrow Wilson, the federal government took over the operation of all railroads in the United States for the duration of World War I.

In 1947, the Northeastern part of the United States was blanketed by a snowfall of almost 26 inches, the heaviest experienced in New York City since the blizzard of 1888.

A thought for the day: Irish poet, wit and dramatist Oscar Wilde said: "Experience is the name everyone gives to their mistakes."

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Some Changes We Can See Plainly; Some Are Subtle

Marin County has seen a lot of changes in the past decade and we suspect that changes will come even faster in the next few years.

We are all familiar with much of the physical change; we see subdivisions today where cows grazed only a year or two ago.

We are all familiar too with the increased traffic congestion and parking problems. And we know that as our population increases, we suffer increasing shortages of classroom space in our schools.

And all the while our tax bills rise.

But the change that we want to consider in this space today is one that is far less obvious to most of us.

An increasing proportion of our population is comprised of apartment dwellers.

These people are a new element in our population.

Up until a couple of years ago the typical Marinite was in many respects a typical resident of suburbia.

By force of necessity he was a practitioner of the do-it-yourself arts.

He mowed his own lawn, cared for his own yard (with a bit of help from the Mrs.), painted his own house outside and inside (again with help from the Mrs.).

In a pinch, he could do a little plumbing, a little carpentry, and so on.

Similarly, the wife and children had their lives shaped by their environment, their house and their yard.

The environment of the apartment dweller is different. He is relieved of many of the home owners' concerns; they are borne by the landlord.

It's the tenant's money that pays the landlord's tax bill, actually, but it is so indirect that the tenant doesn't feel the pinch (and the shock of opening that envelope from the tax collector's office).

The apartment dweller doesn't bear the responsibility for yard and building upkeep.

He and his wife have more time for different leisurely pursuits.

Does all this mean somehow that apartment dwellers are not as good and substantial citizens as taxpaying home owners?

No, we don't thing it means that at all.

But there must inevitably be some differences in viewpoint on community affairs.

And we expect that in the year ahead we will be observing these differences as community questions come and go.

Some of our old standards for judging community reaction to proposed courses of action will no longer be valid.

STRESS AND RESTRESS EACH PERSON'S WORTH

Did you know that the yearly number of unmarried mothers in the United States has gone up 250 per cent since 1938? The total population during that time has risen by only 40 per cent.

Among the major reasons for this alarming rise, experts cite the following:

1. A sense of personal inadequacy;
2. Indifferent parents;
3. Poor economic environment;
4. Lack of social controls;
5. Disregard for, or breakdown of moral training.

Much excellent work is being done for unwed mothers, whose numbers increase by at least 300,000 each year. Assist them, and others as well to overcome their sense of "personal inadequacy." Their great need is for love.

Point out to each person that all without exception have been created in God's image and likeness. He has a special mission for each of them, which no mistakes or guilt can wholly blot out.

"Return to Me, and I will return to you, says the Lord of hosts."

(Malachias 3:7)

Let me show by thought, word and action, O Lord, that I value the priceless worth of every human being.

Our Heavenly Father Takes Look At Undeserving Souls Of Earth

NEW YORK (AP)—Yesterday was Christmas Day in heaven. God sat upon His eternal throne far above the fleecy clouds, watching the pilgrim souls come into His kingdom from the far fields of space.

They came from worlds within mankind's ken and worlds beyond his ken. And a soft clamor rose from them, and it had the sound of a wind with many voices.

God was feeling in a philosophical mood. He reached down amid the mass of pilgrim souls plodding toward the gold door of heaven. He lifted one up in His vast hand. It was a human soul.

"Why, here's one from earth," he said, musingly. "Look at it. So much of fluff about it—and so little character."

God turned and spoke to one who stood at His right side:

"So many like it crowd up from that little mudball earth I sent you down to save, my Son. And all crying for divine mercy. Shall I extend it to them?"

And then answered Him the voice that most men have most yearned to hear:

"Yes, Father, forgive them."

"But why, my Son?"

"Because I promised it to them in your name."

"But I have sent you to many universes beyond this earth—larger, more important realms of matter," said God. "Why does your love always return to these lost prisoners of earth?"

"Many did not recognize me, father, but I told them that if they did they would be forever free."

"But they stretched you upon a cross of wood and drove a spear into your side, my Son."

"Forgive them, Father. They knew not what they did."

THE LORD SHOOK his great head, and said:

"My Son, you think too much about that single mudball in the clouds. Your duty is not one satellite or a single star."

And Jesus replied:

"But it is my birthday on earth, Father, and the earth is as beautiful as the morning."

HE HELD OUT his hand in mute appeal. And God put the small frightened human soul within that hand. And His Son set down that human soul with infinite tenderness, safe in the golden sanctuary he had promised long ago.

And the bells of heaven rang in gladness, just as they did on earth, wherever men remembered.

Speech Freedom At Courthouse

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The real issue raised by the misguided protests of Milen Dempster and the ACLU against the placement by private citizens of a nativity scene on the Court House lawn is one relating, not to separation of Church and State, but to freedom of speech. Relative to this fundamental right, I wonder why members of the ACLU insist so strenuously upon the right of Communists to use State-owned university facilities as a forum for presentation of their views, and just as vehemently deny the right of Christians to place on County property a portrait significant to their beliefs.

As we watch the far right radical groups let us not close the left eye.

We Must Avoid Hydrogen War

EDITOR
Independent-Journal

Within the furor of world turmoil, there seems to me to be appearing wide agreement among peoples of all governments and ideologies on one very large point—that of not permitting hydrogen war to begin. With few exceptions, people everywhere are mumbling to themselves, "We cannot have war." There are still far too many, however, who add "but" to their reasoning, which, the minute it is added, destroys the original deduction. I think it is time we pushed our basic desire for peace with the positive addition of "And this is what we shall try," instead of the old "But what if they try that first?" For one, I am not only tired but irritated that we have continued to react to Russia's every move for so long a period of time. When, I keep asking myself, will we begin to act in an original, positive manner? If we really believe in the ideals of humanity and freedom, surely it is time we stopped reacting so much to others lack of belief in these ideals, and began to press forward to express and live them more fully ourselves. . . .

. . . I cannot help that some will scoff "Pollyanna," but at times there comes to me an overwhelming sense that we are at the brink of not the end of everything, but rather the beginning. Call it wishful thinking, but I believe that the world will not end with a bang or a whimper, but that it is now, in fact, beginning an age of splendor for the human spirit. . . . The recognized acceptance of all peoples' interdependency upon one another becomes the true gift of the nuclear age, and the Peace on Earth cry of our Christmas season moves out of written dreams and into reality.

'Tropic' Trial Wasted Tax Funds

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Thanks to the I-J, a reader has the opportunity to occasionally express himself on current local expenditures of tax monies. The "obscene" book trial which attracted so much attention seems to me a gross waste of such monies. The D.A. did receive quite a bit of publicity, but such a strange way of getting it, and was it really beneficial to him?

Our faith in the jury system has been renewed somewhat by their decision not to convict the bookseller. One wonders if the amount spent for the trial might not have been better used to help educate our future readers, the children, instead of helping an author and his publishers become wealthy. Surely the book did not deserve so much free publicity. Free for whom?

As Mr. Nolan of the Examiner so aptly wrote in his column "Putting this compendium of latrine talk on solemn trial is compounding the stupidity."

People are now reading the book who ordinarily read only newspapers and comic books. Mr. Garety has not added one bit of value to our culture with his blatant bid for publicity.

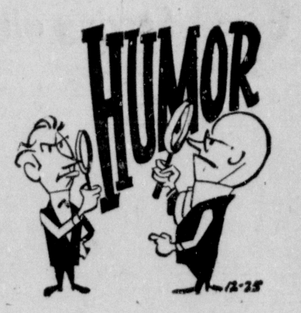
"True humor," wrote Thomas Carlyle, "springs more from the heart than from the head. It is not contempt. Its essence is love. It issues not in laughter, but in still smiles, which lie far deeper. It is a sort of inverse sublimity, exalting into our affections what is below us, whereas sublimity draws down into our affections what is above us."



A 9-year-old boy was taken to the gallery of the United States Senate on his first trip to Washington. When he returned home, he made this acute report to his class: "The Senate is run in a very unusual manner. One senator gets up to speak and says nothing. Not another senator listens to him. Then everybody disagrees."

Then there was the pig who playfully jumped on top of another pig and announced, "I won't let you up till you say oinkel."

Novato School Board Should Air Its Problems So Public May Know

THERE'S A TEMPEST starting to blow up Novato way, and it doesn't bid well for anyone. We aren't quite sure when it got started, but like a breeze turning into a wind and then into a gale, it is getting stronger all the time.

Right now it's blowing strong enough to blow sufficient sand in people's eyes that they can't see clearly. Maybe when the storm and dust settle, everyone will be able to know what it is all about.

Of course we are referring to the tempest being raised over the forced resignation of School Supt. William J. J. Smith, with "reluctance," at leaving a post he has held for 14 years and Novato, "where his heart and home are."

Records show that there has been opposition to Smith for several years. Any public figure always has some who dislike him. It cannot be helped.

Apparently there has been a growing rift between Smith and the Novato Unified School Board for the past several months. Those opposing him on the board said it started last February. Regardless of when it started, it has been growing until right now it has reached the parting of the ways.

WE STILL CANNOT find out exactly what it is all about.

At the special board meeting last Tuesday, the board spoke in generalities and Smith was non-committal. Nothing much came out into the open at that meeting.

It was brought out though, that the board has held five executive sessions with Smith since February trying to straighten things out. Last week the board held a closed meeting for 4½ hours before it came out into the open and accepted his resignation with a clause to re-open negotiations.

IT IS ALMOST certain that Smith does not want to give up the position. He has built the Novato Unified School system into what it is today. Boards have come and boards have gone, but Smith has remained as superintendent.

No school issue is ever raised without getting people warmly in favor or opposed to it. The same will be true of this one.

However, before personal feelings get too high over it, we wish that the issues would be brought out into the open.

If Smith has done such a lousy job that the board had to force his resignation, then the public should be told when and how he failed in his responsibilities.

If there are no charges that can be brought out into the open, then the public will know it is a clash of personalities—that Smith just cannot work with the present board or vice versa.

Whatever it is exactly that lies behind all the closed meetings and forced resignation, we feel that the public has a right to know the facts in the case.

India Violated UN Non-Violence Pledge In Taking Goa By Force

WASHINGTON—It must be small and chilling comfort to the government of India to find that its principal supporters for its seizure of the three Portuguese territories are the Soviet Union and Red China.

The Soviets "liberated" Hungary. The Chinese Communists "liberated" Tibet. Now they are delighted to have the Indians "liberate" Goa.

Prime Minister Nehru and India are no longer "unaligned." They have joined the ranks of those who find it "moral" to seek their national interests by force. They have joined the ranks of those who talk "peaceful co-existence" and abandon it when they wish.

Mr. Nehru is no longer "unaligned" even if he would like to be. His conquest of the Portuguese colonies has brought him such eager and purposeful allies that Mr. Nehru has lost nothing but his reputation.

IN THIS MOMENT of minor military triumph and great moral abdication, it is hard to escape the feeling that the Indian Prime Minister must be wondering how he came to earn the support of his new allies—and why they are supporting his use of force.

Red China instantly proclaimed that India did right in seizing the little Portuguese enclaves of 1,300 square miles on its Western frontier—and Red China's voice can be heard along the 13,000 square miles it has invaded on India's eastern frontier.

And while Red China gives India its "moral" approval, its other ally shields India from the moral disapproval of the UN by vetoing the Security Council resolution calling upon the Indian forces to withdraw.

IT SEEMS TO ME that the explanations for the Goan action from Mr. Nehru and Defense Minister Khrishna Menon, though they may momentarily taste sweet in the mouth, become bitter in the belly—and will not digest. Their justification is that the swift collapse of resistance proved that the invasion was "right." It sounds odd to hear Mr. Nehru saying that might makes right—or that weakness makes wrong.

Another is the Indian statement that the Goan people "wanted and welcomed" India's taking over.

These are not justifications. They are excuses.

Is one nation's unilateral claim that another people "want" to be annexed a justification for conquest? If so, then any conquest can be justified on the word of the conqueror. And this may well be why Red China was so quick to endorse India's conquest. It thus puts India's moral "reputation" around Red China's own conquests.

EVERY MEMBER of the UN is pledged to use only peaceful means of settling international disputes. India used violent means to settle its dispute with Portugal.

The UN resolution endorsing the end of colonialism did not approve outside invasion to end colonial rule. India sent its forces across an international frontier in violation of the charter.

The Soviet Union and Red China are, of course, delighted to have Mr. Nehru defend the use of national force to "liberate" other countries. But if each nation is going to be free to decide what people it wants to "liberate," then we are, indeed, plunged into chaos. This would justify liberating Hungary from the Hungarians, liberating Tibet from the Tibetans. Next in Peiping's timetable may be liberating more of India from the Indians. Unquestionably Mr. Nehru would consider this wrong, but if it is right for India to decide what is a "just war of liberation," it is equally right for Red China to do the same.

SOMEONE HAS SAID that when Indians depart from their policy of non-violence and resort to war, they will be "injuring all the larger causes that India stands for."

Someone has said that India "cannot have it both ways" and that to do so "is to fall between two policies and be nowhere."

Someone has said that "wrong conduct leads to evil results."

This judgment was once rendered by Mr. Nehru. It seems a grim and discerning judgment.

Judged best "Homes" section of any newspaper in the United States

It's getting to be a habit! For the 5th time in 7 years,* the Independent-Journal won first place against all newspapers in the U.S. for the best special "Homes" color section. Occasion: National Homes Week, Sept. 23—Oct. 1, 1961. Awards: by the National Association of Home Builders.

We're pretty happy about it. Not so much for taking "first," but for the kind of editorial format which took the judges' eye. It proved again that a newspaper best serves both its readers and its advertisers by creating, in words and pictures, the things people want to see and want to read.

Some call it editorial leadership. We call it putting out a newspaper that interests people. That, we feel, is the finest "award" of all: good reading for readers, a top audience for advertisers.

In 1960, the I-J placed second; in 1958, third—always in the winner's circle

Take this sort of hand. You plan to take the top hearts, ruff a heart in dummy, draw one trump with the ace and then lead a low trump. If the trumps break normally, you will lose only two trumps and one diamond.

This is a reasonable way to play the hand, but that ten of spades in the dummy is just a wasted fish-hook. Why shouldn't you try to catch something with it?

If you believe there are lots of good fish at the bridge table, win the first trick in the dummy with the ace of hearts and lead the ten of spades from dummy.

COSTS NOTHING: This play costs nothing. If East plays a low trump, you plan to take the ace of trumps and lead another trump.

The point is that East may cover with the jack of spades. He might do so with Q-J-9-5 or with K-J-9-5.

Let's suppose that East makes the fish-like play of the jack of spades at the second trick. You win with the ace of spades, dropping West's king.

Don't snicker; it's too close to Christmas. Cash the king of hearts, ruff a heart in dummy and lead a trump through East.

Now East can get only two trump tricks instead of three. You will keep plugging away at trumps to capture East's five of spades. And this assures your contract.

DAILY QUESTION: Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ Q J 9 5
♥ Q 8 7 2

♣ N 5

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two hearts. You can't quite afford to show your spades first and the heart support later. Raise partner's major suit first to show that you have a poorish hand with trump support. If he can then try for game you will accept his invitation.

More Prosperous Business Days Are Forecast

NEW YORK (AP) — Business is starting to put up hard cash to back its bet that more prosperous days are ahead.

Corporation directors are ordering more money be spent on new plants and especially on new equipment. Executives of leading companies are announcing plans to raise outlays for expansion in 1962, some to new annual highs.

Machine tool makers say a pickup in orders foreshadows a resumption of the upward trend in capital spending that was side-tracked when the recession led many companies to retrench. The construction industry says contracts, awarded or up for bidding, are taking the same trend.

Such a pickup in business spending will give the economy a good boost. It will add materially to the new strength furnished by the spurt in consumer spending in the final weeks of 1961.

Despite the increase in hard orders for capital outlays, the total for 1962 can only be estimated as yet. Many businessmen are still waiting to be sure that the upturn in the economy is a sure thing. And others say they may raise their present plans considerably if Congress passes the proposed tax incentives in the form of more liberal depreciation allowances.

The Department of Commerce is taking an optimistic if cautious view. It says plant and equipment spending in the first three months of 1962 should be at an annual rate of 36.5 billion dollars, compared with a preliminary guess of 34.5 billion for 1961.

Some industrial economists are more optimistic. They think that confidence is building up so that business will spend at, or perhaps even better than, the record rate of 37 billion dollars set in 1957.

Confidence is a fragile thing. But it also can feed on itself. And that's what the optimists expect.

Spokesmen for a number of individual industries have been predicting that companies in their fields will raise the ante next year. A much smaller number have said they will retrench further, having all the capacity they need to meet anticipated demand.

The steel industry, for example, still has plenty of capacity. Yet this year it has spent around $1 billion for construction. The American Iron and Steel Institute says this brings total postwar capital outlay to about 15 billion dollars.

But in spite of over-all abundant capacity, several steel companies plan new expenditures, mainly to update obsolete equipment, produce new products, or effect production economies.

The metalworking industry as a whole will spend more in the early months of 1962 than a year ago, The Iron Age magazine reports. In the third quarter of this year these companies set aside 787 million dollars for new plants and equipment—most of it to be spent next year. This is 16 per cent higher than was appropriated 12 months earlier.

The National Machine Tool Builders Assn. says its members should have 610 million dollars in new orders next year, compared with 550 million in 1961.

The gas industry expects to spend two billion dollars next year, some 200-million dollars more than this. The privately owned electric utilities expect to spend at least three billion dollars, the same as this year.

Some leading companies — American Telephone & Telegraph, General Electric, Jersey Standard Oil, to name only a few—have announced sizable spending plans. Jersey, for example, plans 1.2 billion dollars in capital outlays that would top the record 1.1 billion in 1957. Other big spenders are in the food, electronic and space age industries.

NASA May Play Politics With News

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—There is reason to suspect that NASA is playing politics with the news at the expense of maximum information for the taxpayers. NASA is the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Recently NASA revealed one of its most important decisions about landing an American on the moon. It decided to explore a Rendezvous in orbit as a method of getting there. The other method would be by a direct ascent approach to the moon—a one-shot leap from the earth.

NASA believes Rendezvous might speed the project by two years. To re-shape the existing Mercury program toward producing a two-man spacecraft capable of docking with another vehicle in orbit will cost about 500 million dollars. Taxpayers would want to know all about that.

This costly decision was revealed by NASA in a speech in Houston, Tex. The speech was by Robert R. Gilruth, chief of the manned spacecraft center recently located by NASA in Houston. He addressed the Houston Chamber of Commerce. Only late that evening did NASA make available in Washington the barest minimum of Gilruth's announcement. Even that bit could not be printed until 9:30 p.m.

Newspapers in the Central time zone and westward got the announcement in good time. Most Eastern newspapers were skunked. So far as Eastern time zone readers were concerned, this momentous and expensive decision was the exclusive property of the Houston Chamber of Commerce.

Houston newsmen are as good or better than Washington newsmen. There are newsmen in Washington, however, who have specialized in news of NASA, of manned flight and missiles. There are, perhaps, half a dozen such specialists. They are better qualified than other Washington newsmen and better qualified than Houston newsmen to report in some depth the story NASA broke in Houston.

Joseph I. Myler has written much about space for United Press International. Myler has some ideas on the subject of the Gilruth speech. He has been in the Washington bureau of UPI for 20 years. Drawing on his experience with government bureaucracy, Myler had this to say:

"What happened, obviously, is that NASA decided to make a gesture toward Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson by giving this story practically exclusively to the Houston Chamber of Commerce. By breaking the story as it did, NASA caught the bulk of morning papers in a difficult spot and the bulk of news offices empty of newsmen familiar with space developments. NASA had no moral right to hold up the announcement until some NASA official was making a speech somewhere. The story involved a highly expensive program that NASA is trying desperately to sell to the taxpayers. I think this incident was downright shoddy."

Another interested newsman remarked: "If Lyndon Johnson were from Missouri, the speech would have been made in St. Louis."

A fair question: If NASA is unable to come up with a sensible public relations policy can it be expected to deal sensibly with the problem of a moon landing?

Drunken Drivers Are Given Fines

Two drunken drivers have drawn fines in Marin Municipal Court for their first offenses.

Prentiss Rayford, 32, of 249 Sunset Parkway, Novato, must pay $166 fine, remain on nine months probation, and for 90 days drive only for work. He was caught on Highway 101 on Dec. 14.

Richard Frank Schaller, 19, of 79 San Rafael Avenue, San Anselmo, drew $166 fine and lost his driving privilege for 90 days. He was arrested on Paradise Drive in Corte Madera on Dec. 9.

Orchid Society Officers Named

Mrs. Enrico Introini is the 1962 president of the Marin Orchid Society following the election of officers held last week, Mrs. L. R. Dallara, publicity chairman, announced.

Others elected were Mrs. James Lyons, vice president; Mrs. Joseph Soldavini, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Paul O'Flaherty, corresponding secretary; and Les Tindall, new member of the board of directors.

The group next will meet Jan. 18 when retiring president Louis Dallara will turn the gavel over to Mrs. Introini.

Gift Money For Charity

Students of the seventh and eighth grades, 143 strong, voted unanimously to forego their gfit-exchange party and to give the money to a worthy cause.

Dorothy L. Hafslund, school secretary, reported that a "generous sum" was collected by a student committee and donated for the purchase of CARE packages.

HOME?
Have you checked on taxes and assessments you'd have to pay on the homes you've looked at? These costs vary, you know, according to the property itself and the neighborhood in which it's located. There are so many details to think about when buying a home and that's where your REALTOR is such a big help. He knows the things you should check on to make sure you get exactly what you want in a home, and at a price you can afford.

EARL BRINK
To narrate film

Switzerland Color Film Due Jan. 5

The 1962 "World Around Us" series of travel films will open on Jan. 5 with an unusual color film on Switzerland, to be narrated by Earl Brink, world famous explorer and film producer.

The color film, one of a series of five being sponsored by the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum (formerly Junior Museum of Marin), will be shown about 8 p.m. in the San Rafael High School Auditorium.

Brink has taken more than half a million feet of color film in his traveling career that began in 1936. A member of the Explorers, Circumnavigators and Adventurers Clubs, all of New York, he has visited 108 countries and island groups during the past 25 years.

Tickets to the series are available at the museum at 76 Albert Park Lane in San Rafael. Individual and series tickets will also be on sale at the auditorium on the night of the performance.

The five-film showings will also include color films on Central America, Tuscany, Tropical Africa, and Russia.

Bolinas Post Office Might Get Flag Pole

Government moves were reported being made today to install a pole from which the Bolinas Post Office could fly the flag it received from President John F. Kennedy.

Rep. Clem Miller (D.-Corte Madera) announced receiving the assurance from Raymond R. Holmquist, regional director of the Post Office Department, at 79 New Montgomery Street, San Francisco.

Holmquist wrote in reply to Miller's letter of Dec. 7. He said the government will readvertise for construction of a new Bolinas Post Office following failure to receive suitable bids last June. The flag pole will be part of the new building specifications.

"In the meantime," he continued, "we are requesting our present landlord to erect a suitable flag staff."

Yule Decoration Winner Is Named

A Christmas decoration at the home of Robert Grime, 568 Tamarack Road, Terra Linda, was inadvertently left off the list of honorable mentions, James F. Donald, chairman of the contest, announced today.

Grime's display showed a Nativity scene on one side and a modern Christmas scene on the other.

Maryland was founded in March, 1634, by 200 colonists from England under Gov. Leonard Calvert, brother of Lord Baltimore.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Marin Business Picture Looking In One Direction—And That's Up

Pictures, graphs and optimistic statements on the expected economic picture for 1962 are being widely circulated. So far, most of the lines and trends point in one direction—up (including cost of living).

Most experts agree that construction will be one of the leaders—or more generally defined as "business spending" which includes residential construction, private institutional construction, industrial and commercial construction, durable production equipment and business inventories.

Figures compiled by McGraw-Hill's department of economics indicate the biggest boost will be in new industrial and commercial plants and in new production equipment — about 12 per cent. Causes are listed as higher profit levels, faster depreciation write-offs and expected increased production percentages toward plant capacities.

This, of course, will not be reflected so much in Marin County where residential far surpasses industrial and commercial construction.

But consumer spending is expected to gain, too — more rapidly for services than for goods. These would include medical care, beauty treatments, repairs, laundry and cleaning service and the like. We're just as good at that type of spending in Marin as anyplace else—maybe better.

Some industries in Marin likely to be affected are:

REAL ESTATE. This is one of Marin County's biggest "industries" and should go higher than ever before. Dan Deedy of the Marin County Real Estate Board looks for sales to match or surpass the $10,000,000 increase this year, as long as the county "maintains its present systematic pattern of growth."

RETAIL TRADE. Total retail business is expected to rise about 6 per cent. Durable goods sales should go up 10 per cent; grocery and other nondurable sales are slated for 4 per cent increases.

WHOLESALE TRADE. Up about 7 per cent nationally, but mostly in products not represented economically in Marin.

FOOD AND BEVERAGES. Up 6 per cent nationally. Dairy products are supposed to enjoy a big increase, but they have been off generally in the Bay Area. Lucas Valley Dairy thinks they will hold in Marin.

PRINTING AND PUBLISHING. A 5 or 6 per cent increase is expected. That should be good for the I-J, Marin Weeklies, McGraw-Hill Publishing Co. and the printing firms.

STONE, CLAY AND GLASS. We'll use a lot of all three in residential construction. McNear's should sell more bricks, as the category is expected to show 8 per cent sales and production increases.

UTILITIES. Both gas and electric power. Sales increases from 5 to 9 per cent are forecast. Heavy capital spending is anticipated in both utilities. Telephones likewise.

CONTROLS AND INSTRUMENTS. This is a fast-growing field and eventually Marin could see more of it—but not necessarily in 1962. The industry as a whole is due for a 10 per cent rise ian sales, but there will be low capital spending. Too much this last year and the year before.

ELECTRONICS. Output of equipment and components are slated for a 10 per cent increase. Not much spending for new plant and equipment — if any.

Jewish Center Luncheons Set

The business men's luncheons started last spring at the Marin Jewish Community Center, will be resumed starting tomorrow.

The speaker will be George Kursz, manager of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, who will discuss the "Function and Aims of the Chamber."

The luncheons start at 12:30 and end no later than 2 p.m. A kosher style buffet lunch is served. The luncheons take place on the fourth Wednesday of each month.

Reservations should be made at the Center.

Swahili is rich in proverbs, including such familiar-sounding saws as "Spilt water cannot be gathered up" and "If the cat's away, the mouse will reign."

MORE PATCHES FOR GREGG

ANOTHER BILLION DOLLARS

U.S. Agriculture Improved Economically During 1961

By OVID MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's agriculture saw its economic situation improved somewhat in 1961 as the federal government embarked anew on stronger farm-aid programs.

Net income of farm operators was expected by the Agriculture Department to total around one billion dollars more than the 11.7 billion dollars earned in 1960.

Much of this increase reflected policies and programs of the Kennedy administration which sought to reverse those of the Eisenhower administration reducing the federal role in agriculture.

The new programs included higher farm product price supports and a plan under which feed grain producers were paid slightly more than three-quarters of a billion dollars to reduce production of corn and sorghum grains, crops available in oversupply.

The 1961 farm income continued considerably below levels of the late 1940s and early 1950s, and far below the amount the Kennedy administration considered necessary to provide farmers a fair share of the national income. By comparison, farm operators earned a record 17.8 billion dollars in 1948 and 13.5 billion dollars as late as 1958.

Improved economic conditions were not general throughout agriculture. In several sections the situation deteriorated because of lower prices for such products as poultry and eggs, beef cattle, potatoes and some lesser crops. Too, the northern Great Plains suffered from a severe summer drought.

Where the Eisenhower administration had taken the stand that farm markets and production unhampered by government controls and regulation offered an eventual solution to farm income problems, the new administration took a position that it was essential that government embark upon a farm commodity supply control program.

The Kennedy administration did not get from Congress all the power and authority it needed to carry out its policies. As a consequence, both it and agriculture face a number of problems that may prevent any further upturn in farm earnings in 1962.

To make its policies work effectively, the administration would need power to control production of most crops and livestock products so that supplies could be brought into balance with commercial market needs and supplies donated under welfare and foreign aid programs.

The new year is expected to see the administration press Congress for additional authority to carry out its policies. This would be done in a political atmosphere because most lawmakers will be looking ahead to the November congressional elections.

As has been the case for a number of years, agriculture—as represented by its private organizations—continued to be divided sharply over what government should do. The influential American Farm Bureau Federation continued to fight for less government in agriculture, but the National Farmers' Union and the National Grange largely backed the policies of the Kennedy regime. This division is expected to continue in 1962.
